BRAKES PUT ON BIG AIR FORCE BILL IN SENATE

$6 Billion Proposal Sweeps Through House, But Slows in Upper Branch.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—Purse-string holders in the senate put the brakes on the 70-group air force bill today.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Gurney (R-SD) said the $3,198,100,000 measure which whopped through the house by a 343 to 3 vote will get a close going over in the senate appropriations committee.

Bridges, the committee chairman, voted the 70-group air force proposal added to the bill on the house floor is "highly controversial." He said he has not decided whether he will support it.

Gurney, No. 2 GOP member of Bridges' group and chairman of the armed services committee, declared he sees no reason for rushing the 70-group appropriation through the senate.

"The air force will need men as well as planes," he told a reporter. "We want to wait until we can get all the facts, and that will be some time next week."

$6 Billion a Year

Gurney estimated expansion of the air force to 70 groups would cost about $6,000,000,000 a year from now on.

Various estimates have placed the total number of active planes in an airforce that size at about 12,000—as compared with 5,500 now. Neither figure includes the several thousand aircraft held in reserve for future emergencies.

Gurney usually has supported the administration's defense program. He already has declared himself in favor of both a temporary draft revival and inauguration of universal military training.

Most other Republican leaders in congress, however, as well as a number of Democrats, have shied away from a training bill. Their idea is to boost the air force from its present 55 group blueprint to 70 groups and to rely on selective service alone to provide any extra manpower needed.

Military Is Split

The military establishment itself is split over the issue.

But yesterday's house vote left little doubt where that chamber stands in the argument between Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Secretary of Air Symington.

Symington ignored both Forrestal and President Truman in plugging for the bigger air force.

General Motors, Fuel Short, Idling 200,000

By The United Press

DETROIT, April 16—General Motors Corp. announced today that it will close all its automobile fabricating plants, idling 200,000 workers, by April 23 because of the effects of the coal strike.

GM said it was running out of pig iron and steel supplies as a result of the coal strike but that its automotive assembly plants would remain in operation "as long as available material permits."

JAMES ROOSEVELT'S WIFE IN HOSPITAL

By The Associated Press

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 16—Taking the wrong pills from a bedside box in the early morning darkness sent Mrs. James Roosevelt to a hospital today for treatment for an overdose of sleeping pills, her physician reported.

Her condition was described as "good" several hours later.

Dr. Blake Watson, family doctor for the wife of the late president's eldest son, gave this account:

He said, Mrs. Roosevelt, 32, awoke about 5 a. m. with a cold and a headache, reached for a box of pills on a bedside stand which she thought were headache tablets. Instead, she swallowed several sleeping pills. She quickly awakened her husband, who called police. She was rushed to Emergency hospital, then to St. John's hospital in nearby Santa Monica.

Roosevelt, state Democratic chairman, was with her at the hospital but could not be reached for comment.

The police said Roosevelt told them his wife, the former Romelle Theresa Schneider, a native of Independence, Wis., had been suffering from insomnia since the birth of their third child three months ago.

The baby, a daughter named Anna Eleanor, was born Jan. 10. The Roosevelts also have two sons, James, two, and Michael, 16 months.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was a nurse, cared for Roosevelt when he was ill at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., then came to California with him during his convalescence. They were married in April, 1941.

TAFT, STASSEN SET FOR OHIO

Both Candidates Invade State in Search of Convention Delegates.

(Picture on Page 10)

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—Sen. Robert A. Taft, today cancelled a speaking trip to Vermont to devote more time to his Ohio primary campaign where he has been challenged by Harold E. Stassen.

Sen. Taft, whose presidential hopes took a drubbing in the Nebraska primary Tuesday, plans to devote most of his time in his home state between now and the Ohio primary May 4. He was preparing to fly to Cleveland today.

He had planned to spend the weekend of April 24-25 in Vermont, speaking at Middlebury college and at two or three towns in that state. It was that trip which was cancelled today.

Sen. Taft told reporters he was abandoning the Vermont trip because, counting time spent in transportation, it would consume about three days which he could otherwise devote to his Ohio campaign.

He will return to Ohio next Wednesday and remain there until after the primary, except for April 26, when he will be in Washington.

Sen. Taft said his Ohio schedule would take him into seven congressional districts, in all of which Mr. Stassen forces have entered candidates for delegates to the Republicans national convention.

Stassen backers have entered only one candidate for nine delegate-at-large seats. For that reason, Taft supporters contended the Ohio primary could not be a fair test of the candidates' drawing power in the state. They figured it would be much easier to elect one delegate than a full slate.

Stassen Returning To Ohio Next Week

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 16—Stassen-for-president campaigners looked for a local rise today in their candidate's newly booming stock following his 10-hour stint of speech-making and hand-shaking here.

Harold E. Stassen keynoted nearby Hiram college's mock convention Thursday morning, then took off on a race-horse schedule that included speeches to three audiences, a reception and a pair of radio talks.

After shaking hands with several hundred of the 2,200 persons who heard him at Stambaugh auditorium, he left by plane last night for Washington.

Next Wednesday Stassen returns to Ohio to start what he called the "principal effort" of his quest to elect 23 of Ohio's 53 delegates to the Republican national convention.

He will buck favorite son Robert A. Taft, senator from Cincinnati, during a four-day tour with stops at Dayton, Middletown, Hamilton, Toledo, Akron, Alliance, Canton and Cleveland.

Jr. C. of C. Tag Day Tomorrow To Aid Cancer Campaign

A "tag day" in the interest of the campaign being conducted by the Marion County Chapter of the American Cancer society will be conducted Saturday by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This will mark the third year the group has sponsored a tag day in the interest of the cancer campaign.

Working in hourly shifts the men will be stationed at corners in the downtown district to receive contributions throughout the day, starting at 10 a. m. and working until 5 p. m.

Arrangements for the tag day are in charge of William Noel, chairman of the organization's public health committee, and headquarters will be at the Salvation Army citadel on North Prospect street. All proceeds will be turned over to the local cancer chapter which has $7,500 as its quota of the national goal.

COMMISSIONERS ASK RULING ON HOSPITAL

Seek To Clear Up Legal Phase of Joint Project Here.

The county commissioners cleared the way today for a decision on the legal question of joint city-county participation in a hospital district to build a new hospital here.

Authority was given by resolution to County Prosecutor James E. Reed to rule on the legality of joint participation in a tax levy or bond issue raising approximately $1,000,000 in a matching funds hospital construction program under federal aid.

Need for a new hospital and proposed city-county participation to raise the local share in the matching funds program has been endorsed unofficially by the Civic Planning Association if such a program can be legally undertaken.

Statute covering the question of joint city-county participation is not clear, it was indicated by the county prosecutor following initial study of the issue. A ruling by Attorney General Hugh Jenkins is being considered at the present time, he said.

Further steps in formulating plans for a new hospital by joint participation, will of necessity wait until the legal issue has been cleared up. An opinion from the attorney general could possibly be received within 45 days, it was indicated.

OSU STUDENT GROUP LOSES RECOGNITION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16 — Ohio State university today withdrew recognition of the Progressive Citizens committee as a student group.

President Howard L. Bevis said the action was taken because the organization follows "purposes and objectives quite at variance with those set forth with its application" for recognition.

James M. Early, an instructor, and seven other executive board members quit the committee last week. They attributed their action to the committee's refusal to vote out Communists.

The committee adopted a resolution re-affirming a provision in its constitution admitting anyone —regardless of political affiliation.

Referring to the communist issue, President Bevis said:

"I believe communism stands for the overthrow of our government and would use force to accomplish it. A state university can not properly devote its facilities—human or material—to the dissemination of such doctrine."

Dr. Bevis acknowledged there were Communists in the student body and said:

Correspondents Tour Italy, Find Commies Losing as Vote Nears

By FRANK O'BRIEN and JOHN P. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Correspondents

ROME, April 16—The tumult and the shouting of the campaign die tomorrow, and Sunday morning Italy's, Europe's and the world's most important postwar election begins.

Twenty-nine million Italians are old enough to vote and it looks like just about all of them will—Lombardy's wealthy industrialists and Sicily's landed barons, Milan's and Turin's factory hands and Apulia's bronzed fishermen—prosperous small farmers, barefooted peasants, priests, cloistered nuns, soldiers, sailors, airmen.

In pre-election travel over much of this ancient land of the Caesars, green and lovely in the early spring, these two correspondents—one who went north, the other south—talked with hundreds of these people.

At the peak of the campaign, they talked with big and little political shots, with Communists, Socialists of both persuasions, Christian Democrats, Monarchists, neo-Fascists, with soldiers, policemen, carabinierei, taxi drivers, vaudeville actors, bootblacks, the jobless.

Of them all, north and south, this question was asked:

"What will make a man (or a woman) vote this way or that in your region?

With few exceptions (most of them in the south), they replied—and many said it sadly, or bitterly—that it was the state of the outside world: internal economic and social questions, pressing though they were, had been submerged in the tidal wave of international events.

Here are the major conclusions these correspondents, comparing notes, have reached.

►Hundreds of thousands who three months ago were fence-sitters or leftists-inclined will vote against communism—enough to deny the Communist-controlled popular front an absolute majority in the new parliament, and enough, possibly, to make Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats the biggest single party or bloc.

(Footnote by O'Brien: A northern editor said, "The workmen know now they must choose between freedom and dictatorship, Soviet Russia and the United States.")

(Footnote by McKnight: But in the simple south, where world events seem far away, the Left's simple line, "Vote for us and we'll give you the land," still packs plenty of political punch.)

►Biggest factor in the drift away from the Communist bloc is repeated kicks and cuffs from Russia, which have brought even good Communists to the edge of despair. Had Russia stayed quiet the last four months, the Communists might have won. Her "no" on Trieste Tuesday merely capped the sad—for the Italian Communists—story that started with Czechoslovakia.

►Biggest factor in the drift to the Christian Democrats is the Marshall plan. Required opposition to it, dictated by the Cominform, has been the Communists' thorniest cross. In the final stages, leftist leaders have tried to wriggle out from under, hedging "we are not really against it, just some aspects of it."

(Footnote by O'Brien: To the northern industrial worker, rehabilitation of industry and revival of exports is of prime importance.)

(Footnote by McKnight: The southern farm folk may not know where stopgap U. S. aid ends and the plan begins, but they know it is American bread and spaghetti they are eating.

►Two things have happened not foreseen at the state of the campaign. One is the sudden spurt of Giuseppe Saragat's and Ivan Matteo Lombardo's independent ((anti-Communist) "Socialist Unity" party. The other is resurgence of fascism.

(Footnote by O'Brien: In the north, often, grandfather, father and son have been Socialist. They are deeply conscious of socialism's international character. They can follow—and will change their vote because of—subtle differences of Marxian interpretation and Socialist attitudes abroad. British, French, Dutch, Belgian and Scandinavian Socialist condemnation of alliance with communism and western Socialist support of the Marshall plan influences these people to open support of anti-Communist Socialists or secret votes against the front.)

(Footnotes by McKnight: The agrarian south knows little about Marx, but even there—notably in eastern Sicily—"Socialist unity" is making progress. However, the "Italian social movement" which claims to have salvaged "the good of fascism," will be the southern electoral surprise.)

►By and large, the mud the left has flung at Uncle Sam has

MONEY HIS, WON IT, MANSFIELD MAN SAYS

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., April 16—One dollar bill looks just about like another—a fact which has police in something of a stew.

You see, police have $10,000. It's up to them and the courts to decide whose money it is.

Stephen S. Enoff, 53,-year-old laborer of Mansfield, O., says he won it betting on the dogs.

Mrs. Julia Grech of New York City said the money was her janitor-husband's life savings. She said she gave it and a money belt to Enoff to hold while she went swimming March 28.

She said that when she returned the man to whom she entrusted the money had disappeared.

Detectives Frank Love and R. B. Simpson arrested a man whom Mrs. Grech said had taken the money. He was picked up in Miami. Detective Supt. Charles W. Pierce identified him as Enoff. He quoted the Ohioan as saying:

"If she says it's hers, let her prove it. I won it at the dog races."

Enoff was booked for investigation and vagrancy and will be

Colombia Revolt Probers Are Warned It Could Happen Here

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16 — An open warning and a guarded hint that Colombia's blood-spattered revolt pattern may be used in the United States spurred a congressional committee today to dig deeper for facts.

For one thing, the lawmakers want a complete explanation of why the state department went ahead with the Pan-American conference at Bogota despite definite word that the Communists were plotting trouble there.

The department itself said Secretary Marshall scornfully rejected any notion that "a handful of Communists" could intimidate the American republics.

But Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) saw the situation in a different light.

"Why," he asked, "did they (department officials) go blindly into this conference knowing there might be trouble? Why did they permit themselves and the country to be put in a ticklish position?"

In Search of Answers

Brown said he wants the answers to those questions and will try to get them at hearings to be set later.

He is the chairman of a house committee set up to look into the background of the destructive Bogota uprising — particularly to learn whether this country's central intelligence agency (CIA) had warned Marshall there might be trouble in the Colombian capital.

Yesterday's hearing brought evidence of a number of such warnings. Afterwards the state department volunteered it had been fully aware of the situation itself and Marshall had commented "saltily" the American republics were not going to be intimidated by Communists or anybody else.

But the thing that stood out in sharpest focus was the double admonition in congress that trouble may be ahead in this country.

First Rear Adm. R. H. Hillenkoetter, head of the CIA, told Brown's committee that "conditions in Columbia are similar to those in the United States except they are advanced a couple of years."

Compared To Wallace

Hillenkoetter said Jorge Gaitan, the Colombian liberal leader whose assassination touched off the revolution, was a figure "like Henry Wallace in our country"—a man who played along "with the extreme left and the Communists."

65 FT. CREST AT CINCINNATI

Highest Level Set as No-Rain Prediction Presages End of Flood.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 16—The weather bureau said late this morning that the flooding Ohio river will crest here at 65 feet, instead of the 64 feet predicted earlier.

The bureau, in a special bulletin stated:

"Due to sustained flow in the upper Ohio, Kanawha and Sandy rivers this morning the final crest in the Cincinnati district will be slightly higher than previously indicated. The following stages and crests are forecast for Cincinnati:

"63.5 feet Friday evening; 64.5 Saturday morning, and final crest of 65 feet Saturday night."

Bridges Closed

Meanwhile, Central bridge connecting Cincinnati and Newport, Ky., and the Veterans Memorial bridge, across Licking river between Newport and Covington, Ky., were closed because of water around their approaches.

Oscar Hesch, Newport city manager, appealed for volunteers —"men and women and boys over 12 years of age"—to help in throwing up a sandbag barricade against water gushing up sewers from the Licking river.

The heavy flow of water forced flood watchers to raise their sights on expected top stages on the Ohio river from Huntington, W. Va., downstream.

A continued big run-out of the Kanawha river, big tributary entering the Ohio eight miles upstream from Gallipolis and 264 miles below Pittsburgh, contributed to the revised forecasts. However, lack of rain throughout the Ohio valley and a falling river upstream from the Marietta, O.-Parkersburg, W. Va., section kept the fear of disaster down.

At Portsmouth, O., 356 miles below Pittsburgh, the river reached a depth of 62.5 feet, the previously forecast crest, at 7 a. m. today and headed for an expected 63.7 by midnight, J. Cecil Alter, U.S. weather man at

Rivers Receding Here, One Road Still Closed

Roads in Marion county were open to traffic today with the exception of a section of state route 203 between Prospect and Newman's which has been flooded since Sunday, according to reports from the state highway department and county engineer's office.

Clear skies for the second consecutive day were accompanied by a steady lowering of the water level in the troublesome Scioto and Little Scioto Rivers. Farmlands bordering the rivers and tributaries began to lose their lake like appearance as overflow receded.

Although the Little Scioto is back within banks, the Scioto remains well out of its channel through virtually all of Marion county. Still over route 203 to a depth of four feet yesterday near Prospect, observers predict it may still be a day or two before that section of the road can be opened to traffic.

CRASH SURVIVOR. Lone survivor of air transport crash that claimed 30 lives at Shannon, Eire, yesterday is Mark Worst of California, (above) manager of Lockheed Aviation corporation's base there. (International Soundphoto.)

NOTED EXPERT ON METAL DIES

C. H. Gibbons, Former Marion Man, Stricken in East; Burial Here.

Chester H. Gibbons, 59, a former engineer with the old Marion Steam Shovel Co. and an authority on the testing of metals, employed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, Pa., died at 11:45 p. m. Wednesday in Presbyterian hospital, Philadelphia. His widow is the former Miss Mary Jacoby of Marion. He had returned from a business trip to Europe about three months ago, and had been ill only a short time. His home was at Drexel Hill, Pa. Graveside services will be conducted at Marion cemetery Saturday morning.

Born Aug. 8, 1888, in West Mansfield, he was a son of Rev. William S. Gibbons and Lydia Mann Gibbons. When a young man he came from West Mansfield to Marion as an employe in the drafting and engineering department of the Steam Shovel Co. Later he was employed in a Steam Shovel plant in Erie, Pa. From Erie he went to Milwaukee, Wis., where he worked for the Bucyrus-Erie Steam Shovel Co. and was there until he entered government work during World War I.

Goes with Shipyards

At a Navy shipyards at New York during World War I, he supervised the installing of electrical equipment on ships. Following the war, he became an employe of the Southwark Machine Co. at Philadelphia, one of the oldest machine companies in this country. After three or four years there he returned to the Marion Steam Shovel Co. as a draftsman and engineer, remaining here until about 1929. He returned to Philadelphia about 18 years ago and reentered service with the Southwark Co. which was then merged with the Baldwin Locomotive Co.

While with the Southwark Co. he did work for the government of Venezuela in South America, installing a system of weights and measures for that country. He was the author of a standard textbook on weights and measures. With the Baldwin Locomotive Works, he was an application engineer at the company's Eddystone plant. On his trip to Europe, as a representative of the company, he visited London, England, and Holland, Belgium and France. His work in the field of stress analysis was widely known, and on his European visit he conducted a survey of methods of metal testing. He was a member of the Methodist church and of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M.

Three Daughters

Surviving with his widow are three daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Brady of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Jean Fisher of Drexel Hill, Pa., and Miss Martha Gibbons, at home, three grandchildren and a brother, Wayne Gibbons of Middleport, O. Mrs. Gibbons has brothers and a sister here, Dr. C. W. Jacoby of near Marion, and Miss Daisy Jacoby and J. W. Jacoby of 555 East Church street.

Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, will be in charge of the graveside services Saturday at 11 a. m. at Marion cemetery. The body is expected to arrive here early Saturday.

PACT PLEDGES UNIFIED EFFORT FOR RECOVERY

16 Signatories Promise Efficient Use of Funds Provided by U. S.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, April 16 — Western Europe formally bound itself today to stand united in order to avoid falling divided into deeper poverty and war.

It did so in a 3,000-word charter signed in Paris. The charter created a "European Organization of Economic Cooperation."

This organization is designed to assure efficient use of the $5,300,000,000 the United States has pledged in the European recovery program (ERP).

Sir Edmund Hall-Patch of Britain was named first president of the organization, and Paris was selected as its permanent headquarters. Robert Marjolin of France was named secretary general.

Named to the executive committee for a one-year term were representatives of France, Britain, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and The Netherlands.

The charter was signed at a meeting of representatives of the 16 Marshall-plan nations and occupied western Germany, among them many foreign ministers. The meeting was called to order by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The preamble says, "A strong and prosperous European economy will contribute to the maintenance of peace."

The document names these contracting powers: Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Greece, Eire, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, The Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and the French, British and American zones of Germany.

Promise Self Help

They agree to try to get back on their economic feet as quickly as possible in order to be able eventually to dispense "with any foreign aid of an exceptional character."

They promise to "augment their production, develop and modernize their industrial and agricultural equipment, increase their exchanges, reduce progressively barriers to mutual trade, encourage full employment of their manpower."

They recognize "the generous intention of the American people" in supplying the dollars with which they hope to meet their goals.

In Article I, the nations "assign themselves as their immediate task the setting up and execution of a common recovery program." To this end they "hereby institute a European organization of economic cooperation."

Definite Program Set

They pledge themselves to better use of "the resources at their disposal in their homelands and in their overseas territories."

They will set up within the framework of the organization "programs of production and of the exchange of goods and services," the charter says.

They will seek, it adds, to abolish restrictions "on their exchange and on their reciprocal payments."

They will pursue their studies now in course on customs unions or analogous systems such as zones of free trade," the document goes on.

The nations agree "to cooperate with the other countries animated by the same intentions to reduce tariffs."

The charter specifies they "shall be able to call upon the manpower available in the territory of every other contracting party," since, for example, Italy has a labor surplus and France a shortage.

They provide for "organs of inspection and supervision" to be sure American aid and their own resources are used efficiently.

They agree to "furnish the United States government appropriate assistance and information relative to the European recovery program, and to make recommendations to it."

Agreements Authorized

The organization is empowered to make agreements "with nonmember countries, with the United States government and with international organizations."

This would allow, for example, trade pacts with Spain, South America or eastern European nations.

Unanimity is required for de-

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

IF YOU'RE wondering — hey, what goes?—about the armed forces, that's what President Truman is wondering, too.

The armed forces were going to be made stronger—according to a set plan—to back up our stop-Communism policy.

Then . . . wham . . . the boss of the airforce upset the applecart.

Here we were, going all right, or so it appeared, under a new law passed by congress to make the armed forces work better than ever before.

James Marlow

This is the way the new law said the armed forces were to be set up in what congress called "unification":

Big boss over all — Secretary of Defense Forrestal; under him — Secretary of the the Army, Royall, Secretary of the Navy, Sullivan; Secretary of Air, Symington.

Each service usually wants something different from the others Forrestal was supposed to get them to agree and keep them all in line.

But look what happened.

In mid-March President Truman told congress communism abroad must be stopped. He asked a program to build up the armed forces

Right away Forrestal told the entire military high command—meaning the top men under him—to work out a defense program

Then, in the days that followed Forrestal and those top men of his went before.

1 The senate armed services committee.

2. The house armed services committee.

BOTH COMMITTEES are supposed to draw up bills for both houses of congress to vote on The bills may differ.

If they do, and are approved, house and senate will have to get together to agree on one single bill for both houses.

Forrestal and his top aides—and this includes General Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff—told the committees this:

1. We need a draft to build up our armed forces right away

2. We need universal (compulsory) military training to build up a pool of trained men to back up our armed forces if needed in an emergency.

3. If we don't have UMT, we'll need a permanent draft to keep the armed forces built up.

4. We ought to have an air force of 55 groups.

THEN W. STUART SYMINGTON, secretary of air, upset the applecart in such a way that even the President is confused

He told the house armed services committee:

1. Russia is building the greatest airforce in the world.

2. Instead of a 55 group airforce, we need a 70 group airforce.

3 We need the 70 group airforce more than we need UMT

Here was the secretary of air, apparently going contrary to Forrestal and the other top people in the armed forces because They had insisted the most important thing right away was a draft and UMT

YESTERDAY THE FULL house took matters out of the hands of the armed services committee and voted for a 70 group airforce.

But now come Symington — who's supposed to be under Forrestal—can sound off with something different from what Forrestal says?

Mr. Truman was asked this question at his news conference yesterday He said he doesn't know the answer.

If he doesn't know the answer, how can you or anybody know?

Anyway, Symington's 70-group airforce isn't a sure thing. The house approved The senate still [illegible]

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Mrs. Catherine E. Turney

Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Turney, widow of Merrill A. Turney, for many years a leading jeweler here, died at 5:20 a. m. today at the Sawyer Sanatorium where she had been for the past several months. In failing health for some time her death was caused from heart failure. She was past 80 years of age.

Prior to coming to Marion as a bride in 1895, Mrs. Turney lived in Delaware where her father, William S. Little was a merchant for many years. She was a member of St. Paul Episcopal church and a charter member of Captain William Hendricks Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Active in the social life of Marion she was a member of the Twiggs, a group that met socially for many years. The family home was on Delaware avenue.

Following the death of her husband a number of years ago Mrs. Turney made her home in San Diego, Calif. She came to Marion about a year ago from Arlington, Va., where she had gone to be with her two sons Captain Hugh W. Turney and Captain William L. Turney, both in the U. S. Navy and stationed in Washington, D. C. Both commanded ships in World War II.

The body is at the L. A. Axe & Son funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue, pending the arrival of the sons late today.

Mrs. Clara Zimmerman

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Clara Gracely Zimmerman, 70, wife of Philip Zimmerman of Spencerville, Thursday in a hospital at Lima. She suffered from a heart ailment.

Born Aug. 31, 1877, she was a daughter of John and Mary Ann Salter Gracely. Her father was a native of Marion county. Her marriage to Mr. Zimmerman was Nov. 24, 1904.

Surviving with her husband are brothers and sisters who live near Lima, and cousins in Marion county and near Radnor.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in the church at Spencerville, and burial will be at Spencerville.

Donald Allen Dennon

Donald Allen Dennon, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dennon of Ruth avenue, died at 1 p. m. Wednesday in a hospital at Cambridge, O. He had been at the hospital for some time.

Born April 27, 1936, in Lawrence county, he was a son of James F. and Leelie Griffiths Dennon.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery.

William L. Iliff

Friends here have received word of the death of William L. Iliff of Compton, Calif., on March 2. He was the husband of Miss Grace Munson, formerly of Marion. Mrs. Iliff, who was active in music circles and in the work at Epworth Methodist church, lives at 310 West Almond street in Compton. She went to the west coast a number of years ago.

Mrs. Jennie D. Rhoads

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Jennie Dodds Rhoads, widow of Frank Rhoads, formerly of the Meeker community, which occurred Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hattie Brorein in Angola, Ind. She was past 80 years of age and had made her home with her daughter for the last several years. She was active in church work and at one time served in the mission field in India.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday at the Methodist church in Meeker and burial will be made in the Meeker cemetery.

ACCUSED IN MOSCOW. Rob Magidoff (above), Moscow correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company, has been accused by his former secretary, Cecilia Nelson, a native of Michigan, of using his position in Moscow to collect information for an American espionage system. She said he has been sending intelligence reports in U. S. diplomatic pouches. From the NBC offices came a vigorous defense of Magidoff in a declaration that his work in Russia had been entirely that of a news correspondent. (Associated Press Photo.)

Mrs. Daisy F. Fairchild

Mrs. Daisy Frances Fairchild, 64, died in her home at 623 North Jefferson street Thursday forenoon after an illness of about four months.

Born in Campbell county, Kentucky, she was a daughtar of Edward and Sarah White Dicken, and was last of a family of seven children. She was a member of the Persimmon Grove Methodist church in Kentucky.

Her only close survivors are nephews, Fred Thornton of Newport, Ky., and Carl F. Rinnert of 2°9 Park boulevard.

Friends may call at the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals on East Center street until 10 tonight when the body will be sent to Kentucky where funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon, with burial in Persimmon Grove cemetery.

Moral Contempt

EXTREME economic pressure is being used against the U.S. judiciary to force a decision favorable to John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers in their trial for contempt of court.

Many members of the union are staying away from work pending the court's decision.

They are making it plain that in the event of an unfavorable decision they might stay away from work indefinitely.

They are putting on a demonstration of their ability to close down the coal mines again if the government does not capitulate.

Even more disturbing than the implications of legal contempt are the implications of moral contempt in a mass action by thousands of citizens challenging the authority of government to act in behalf of the general welfare and making the challenge tangible with economic pressure.

Italy At the Rubicon

SUNDAY the Italians will vote in an election that will decide their country's future.

If Italy votes to cast her lot with the western world, the war-born poverty and discontent on which communism thrives will still be there but, under the European recovery plan, the resources of the west will be available for rebuilding.

If Italy goes Communist, she would cross a Rubicon that cannot be re-crossed. More ominous, the Communists would prove they can win an election without the tender ministrations of the Red army or a Moscow-controlled secret police.

Italy has had a large, adroitly-led Communist party since the fascist decline allowed it to gain a foothold. When the Communists won a preliminary election at Pescara in March, the Christian Democratic party launched a more vigorous campaign, backed by positive moves on the international scene. The first of these was the French proposal that Trieste be returned to Italy, followed by a renewal of the move to gain Italy membership in the United Nations. Both actions were vetoed by Russia, to the embarrassment of Italian Communists.

The United States has endeavored to sustain democracy in Italy by sending coal, wheat, ships, financial support and words of encouragement from Italian-Americans. The Communists have cynically sneered at these tactics as moves to buy the election. Whatever the election outcome, Americans know their policy hasn't included intimidation and threats of violence and civil war. They know that Sunday's election will be free and every Italian can vote according to the dictates of his conscience.

It's Your Money

NO ONE has any illusions about the tough job ahead of the security loan campaign. Between now and June 30, when the campaign to spur the buying of U.S. savings bonds ends, the treasury department will tackle one of the hardest selling jobs in history. It will be like pulling teeth to persuade Americans to invest money in government securities when the boys aren't marching.

The treasury will try to substitute reason for emotion. It will try to persuade millions of individuals that their own security and the nation's security call for prudent investment of every dollar that can be spared in savings bonds. It will try to make all citizens understand that this anti-inflationary campaign is one of the direct ways in which they can contribute something to national strength.

It will be, in a very real sense, a test of discipline—the voluntary discipline that only the United States ever dares to expect from its citizens. The government will be saying in effect: "It's your money. You can do what you want to do with it. But instead of spending any of it on things that aren't absolutely necessary, invest it in U.S. savings bonds."

Revising the UN

THE proposal of 16 senators to revise the United Nations charter is but one of a dozen similar resolutions before the senate foreign relations committee. This one has the advantage of imposing bipartisan auspices but it is likely to die in committee because it involves congress in matters which are rightfully the state department's and the American UN delegation's.

The proposal would restrict world armament, curb the veto power and set up an international police force recruited from the small nations. One of the plan's sponsors, Senator Ferguson of Michigan, characterizes it as "a new answer to Russia." Undoubtedly it would be unsatisfactory to Moscow. That being the case, the disarmament provision would be useless, and all that would be left would be much the same lineup that now exists in the UN.

The UN never has lived up to more than a fraction of the high hopes held for it. But no matter how disappointing it has been, it isn't likely to be improved by a congressional overhauling, exciting the suspicions and misgivings of even the most friendly nations.

The association also announced a poll of leaders in business, labor, agriculture, science, art, journalism and other professions to learn what five major issues confront the United States.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Cancer, Heart and Old Age.

IN SPITE of all the billions that government collects in taxes, private charity grows more essential and more pressing every year. And as one's savings lessen because of taxes, it becomes increasingly more important to scrutinize carefully funds requesting contributions. The best pattern for giving is to set up a plan and, having determined how much one can devote to charity, after taxes, to divide the amount among the chosen charities. I personally prefer to avoid drives, saving their circulars until December when we are able to determine what we shall have to give. Others prefer to give during drives. The important thing is to give and to give wisely.

SOKOLSKY

In my own thinking, I prefer to avoid two categories of funds:

1. Those organizations which year after year undertake huge, well-publicized, heavily advertised drives and which possess enormous reserves that they cannot reasonably expend during the next two or three years. The dead hand of unused funds is not charity; it is business for administrators.

2. My taxes have contributed ample to foreign relief. UNRRA, ERP, the funds for UN come out of taxes—mine and yours. Therefore, I shall contribute nothing to foreign relief except for children and education. I shall not contribute to omnibus funds which combine foreign relief and funds for local organizations. Whereas foreign relief may arouse my emotions, I want to exercise independent judgment about local organizations. Sometimes when I look at these omnibus appeals, I discover among organizations which I can favor some that I regard as altogether disreputable. It is a matter of choice whether one wants to accept the bad with the good or to reject the good with the bad. The latter is my choice

Four Vital Causes

On the other hand, it seems to me that there are four causes that should have everybody's money. Cancer, heart, diabetes and old age need all the money that the American people can afford for them. It is difficult to understand why there has been so little money for cancer, particularly cancer research, when so many are killed by it. And the same is true of the heart. Of course, these diseases and diabetes are generally due to the fact that we live so much longer than our ancestors did. We get the "after 50" diseases more numerously because more of us live to be 60 and 70.

The heart wears out; the pancreas weakens; and those wild cells about which we know so little and need to know so much, appear. The wild cells we call cancer. They can become wild for any one of us—for me, for you, for our dearest. It ceases to be charity to contribute for cancer research; it is insurance. What a godsend it would be if someone found something like insulin for cancer. Of course, much is being done already and we are meeting more and more relatives and friends who have had a cancer and have it no more. And we need to know more about the heart, and particularly we need convalescent homes where cardiacs can rest their weary "pump" without being made worse by kindly but worrisome relatives and friends.

Problem of Oldsters

Then there are the old—the very old. What a tough end to life many of them face. Children and grandchildren mean to be kind but they do not understand. They often become less kindly when the legs give way or the heart becomes troublesome, or the kidney stops functioning. But what children and grandchildren seem so seldom to recognize, is that older people often are bored. They crave comrades their own age. They want to discuss the good world of 40 years ago. They are horrified by the truly disgusting manners of our teenagers, their curious slang, their failure to associate living with responsibility. These oldsters often need to retreat to the comfort of associating with their own kind. There are many excellent places for this purpose, but not enough and some of them have too little money.

High taxes notwithstanding, private charity is still important in our lives and we ought to give —to give freely and wisely. And, of course, private charity, up to a certain amount, still remains an income tax deduction.

A Disillusioned Senator

Florida's Pepper Regrets Red Relations.

SENATOR CLAUDE PEPPER, Florida Democrat and longtime friend of the Soviet Union, recently recited step-by-step the deterioration of relations between the United States and Russia in an interview by the Washington Star.

In September, 1945, Senator Pepper had an interview with Premier Stalin of Russia. "I asked the premier," he wrote in an article for North American Newspaper Alliance, "if he did not believe that the United States and Russia, acting together, could to a large extent keep peace in the world. He said he thought we could."

Senator Pepper, recalling this interview, now believes Russian stupidity in judging the American people and the inexperience of U. S. policy-makers have pushed the world to the brink of war. World peace, which Stalin seemed to want in 1945, may still be kept, he believes, if "we avoid an explosive incident until the political picture here at home has been clarified." He was referring to the presidential election.

Senator Pepper said that former Secretary of State Byrnes' account of an unfortunate meeting between President Truman and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, when the latter was enroute to the San Francisco meeting of the United Nations, was a classic bit of understatement. President Truman, the senator said, read the riot act to Molotov to such an extent that the Russian stalked out of the White House.

Pepper feels that the Soviet desire for peace and a better living standard is sincere and justifiable. He feels, too, that the United States was inept in refusing even to acknowledge a Russian note soon after the end of the war requesting an American loan.

But the Reds were incredibly stupid in not showing toward the democracies, in those early and reasonably friendly days, any semblance of a spirit of concession, he believes.

Russia, today, is confronted with a growing coalition of militantly democratic nations, the senator said, and he added that in many respects democracy is a more revolutionary theory of government than communism.

Recalling the criticism which has been heaped on him for his views, Senator Pepper said that while the late Franklin D. Roosevelt has been branded by many people an appeaser in his relations with Russia, the fact remains that he had the perspective to keep the relationship fluid and his attitude towards the Russians was that they must be judged on the basis of their background rather than as one would judge Americans.

Under the most fortunate circumstances and the most genadopted, the rulers in the Kremerous attitude we might have lin would have been difficult to get along with, Senator Pepper feels.

All Ready for Summer

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S famous porch—the second-floor balcony which he ordered built within the south portico of the White House — is now finished, except for cutting a door to permit entrance to it from the President's study and bedroom.

The Washington Star says the balcony has become a kind of guide to the political feelings of Washington tourists. Sight-seeing guides have made the porch a major point of interest on tours of the city. While the porch actually is so inconspicuous it has to be pointed out, the President's critics never fail to point out that they think it's a waste of money and a desecration of the presidential mansion.

The Star explains that the cost of the porch was under $10,000 and the money already had been allocated for the upkeep of the White House. The only point of friction in the whole project was the law which established the Fine Arts Commission as an advisory group to pass on all government buildings and works of art erected in Washington. The commission disapproved the idea of changing the structural appearance of the south portico of the White House with a balcony.

When it realized Mr. Truman was determined to build the balcony anyway, the commission recommended that he retain William Adams Delano, New York architect formerly serving on the commission, to design it. This was done. The balcony is about 72 feet long and 10 feet wide. Incidentally, camera fans hoping to get a picture of the White House occupants sitting on it will be disappointed. The railing is sufficiently high to conceal them.

A request for $250,000 to complete a final survey of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district—designed to supplement the Miami and Muskingum districts in a program to mitigate flood dangers in Ohio—was before the house flood control committee in Washington.

Harry A. Ammann, 63, Marion real estate dealer and general insurance agent, died of a heart attack at his home on Delaware avenue.

Twenty-five hundred children swarmed McKinley park for the Kiwanis club's third annual Easter egg hunt.

Mrs. Minnie Stormer, 66, of Fulton, became Morrow county's first 1938 traffic accident victim when she was instantly killed when struck by a truck.

Members of Alpha chapter, Gradale sorority, entertained with an Easter dance in the Elks' hall. Arrangements were in charge of Miss Rosella Fletcher, chairman, Misses Catherine Watson, Charme Lee Webster, Pauline Shelton, Laurel Hanley and Mrs. Herman Hamilton.

Judge Hector S. Young, following brief hearings in common pleas court, granted judgments totaling $2,921.29 against the city in suits filed by six city officials and employes for parts of their salaries unpaid in 1936 and 1937.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, April 16, 1928.

Announcement was made that Douglas Torrence, advertising manager and head of the ready-to-wear department of the Warner & Edwards Co., had accepted a position as department manager with a drygoods company at Huntington, W. Va.

Newton Cunningham of East Church street, son of T. M. Cunningham, went to Detroit to attend an aviators' convention. He had been a student in an aviation school at Kansas City.

An impulse to "look back" on the part of Bernardo Bowe prevented a costly fire at his home on Bennett street. After placing his automobile in his combination garage and barn he turned just before entering his home and saw the garage building illuminated. Thinking he had forgotten to turn out the electric lights he went back and found his automobile in flames. The car was pushed into the open just in time to save the building.

More Bad Prophecies

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE incurable power itch of many New Dealers who are still in office is shown in renewed demands for controls, allocations and the rest. This time, the excuse is the defense program. In November, it was a coming food shortage. The outcome of that shortage threat deserves to be recalled now, because the facts in April mock the predications of November.

We were told then, not only through official sources, but in privately operated Washington services, of a dire shortage of meat in the spring and, of course, of rocketing prices. Now livestock prices are lower than they were after the discontinuation of the OPA and much lower than the black-market prices when controls still prevailed.

MOLEY

We were given a great scare last fall about grain shortages—a scare which sent prices up and which enriched many bull speculators. Now we know that we can expect more wheat than the President's food committee promised and still have a higher carryover than is needed.

Original Proposal

The cabinet food committee first proposed, in September, to export 470,000,000 bushels of grain, of which 400,000,000 bushels should be wheat. This goal was later increased by the Luckman committee by 100,000,000 bushels. The department of agriculture doubted this goal could be reached after congress had stipulated that the carry-over on July 1 should be 150,000,000,000 bushels.

At this time we have either exported, or have on hand for export, 540,000,000 bushels, of which 470,000,000 bushels are wheat. The remaining amount can easily be obtained without greatly disturbing prices. And after this commitment has been carried out, we shall still have a carryover of more than the 150,000,000 bushel minimum.

But no one will be much concerned about a carryover in face of the crop anticipated for 1948. The winter wheat crop has been estimated at 861,000,000 bushels. If this is realized and spring wheat runs into average weather, we shall have production of 1,130,000,000 bushels, which exceeds prewar averages by 250,000,000.

That should be more than enough to meet export needs, because the prospects abroad show that we shall not have to export more than 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels.

Nevertheless, the government has recently stepped up its purchases. This cannot be a reflection of anxiety about the supply. It must be due to a desire to raise prices.

Meat Price Situation

The failure of meat prices to rise as predicted is easy to understand. We shall have eight per cent less meat this year, but that will be much more per capita than before the war. And supplies will be larger than the slaughterings indicate because of the large stocks which were carried over Jan. 1. Add to that, consumer resistance in January and February, when people became conscious of higher prices.

Another minor factor is the fact, shown in the report of the President's council of economic advisers, that the purchasing power public is lower than it was last year. Consequently, the average American family will consume less meat. All this adds up to fair inference that meat supply will be adequate at least until fall.

The lesson of all this is that with a fair break from Mother Nature, our old friends, supply and demand, free prices and free enterprise are much better regulators than are our new friends, the New Dealers.

The Wages of Sin Are Inadequate

A Tennessee burglar who robbed a bank, postoffice and five business houses, got less than $15.

Things are tough all over.

In fact, despite the evidence in the Benny Meyers case, I am becoming convinced that crime really does not pay.

Burglary was once a well-paid profession in which the greatest handicap was the hours.

But, there being no Breaking and Entering Union, it has not kept pace. Occupational hazards, such as buckshot, have not been reduced; there is no differential for nightwork; and second-story men have yet to work out any satisfactory retirement plan.

In addition, expenses are on the increase; crow-bars are up and nitroglycerin . . . to say nothing of lawyers' fees.

Fifteen dollars for a whole night's work, indeed. Why, it's enough to make a man go honest!

The President Loses More Vo

Somebody asked President Truman the day what had become of Feller, the spaniel pup presented to him last winter he's around," answered the President, an under pressure that the pooch was still resident at the White House and in cha the presidential physician, Dr. Graham, at his place. This is bound to cost Harry more votes.

PHILLI

A dog, especially a puppy, is good publicity. Affection for one warms the public heart. It gives the human touch to a man and to a situation. But Harry seems about as close to this pup as he does to Hank Wallace.

After a single day's blast of publicity when the dog arrived at the White House as a gift, Feller fell out of the news. It later developed that, not being housebroken, the pooch had been over to Dr Graham. And now, months late animal is still an outsider. Mr. Truman's paign backers had better look into this.

T. Manville Reports

By TRUMAN TWILL

T. Manville, the traveling tomcat, is home after many months, including a so in London. Travel, he points out, has be a matter of relative time consumed in ge where you want to be, and he raises a que about this. Perhaps it would be better to le describe it in his own words. The follo is from a wire recording of his report:

"People are going nuts about speed in t as if nothing else mattered. That's foolis speed is the only thing, then travel has being broadening and become no better being zipped from one place to another in a

"For example, I came home from Old Orc Me., in a crate in a baggage car—certainly of the dumbest ideas you (meaning Tru Twill) ever had. There was nothing broade about that. I saw nothing and heard not except some dirty stories told by baggage

"I saw nothing when I went to England back in those airplanes. I might as well gone by submarine. In fact I might as well gone over and back in a pipe, for all the it did me.

"What I'm getting at is that the only w travel that does you any good is to walk. I walked—and trotted and galloped—thousan miles. Tramps and hoboes know some about traveling. They have a chance to fin what makes things the way they are."

At this point, T. Manville was asked whe or not he intends to settle down. His answer equivocal.

"I do not intend to go abroad, if that's you mean," he replied, baring his claws dog. "But on the other hand I don't inter become what you would call a respon member of the community. It wouldn't good on me—responsibility. Some nights I stay home. Some nights I won't. I shall dangerously, to the limit of my ability, isn't as unlimited as it was when I was a y tomcat. But I'll still have my nights to how my nights to purr. Among cats the sayi that all purring and no howling makes a tomcat."

For those who may want to know, T. ville is none the worse for wear, perhaps a heavier, probably a bit more enigmatic still a fine upstanding specimen of felinity activities will be reported from time to tim he will write a column whenever he nee little extra change. He spent last night from home, which is the place to spend as nights as possible when housecleaning i progress.

REPORTS HEARD BY RED CROSS

Activities Listed by Heads of Committees at Monthly Meeting.

Reports of activities were presented at the monthly meeting of the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

A nutrition class will be organized if a sufficient number of persons are interested, Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, chairman of the nutrition committee, announced. Anyone interested is asked to call the chairman or the chapter office. Miss Kleinmaier reported on a conservation demonstration held recently at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. home service center and the Ohio Public Service Co. terminal building, which was attended by representatives of clubs and organizations.

Home Nursing Report

Mrs. F. M. Knapp, home nursing chairman, reported the completion of a course in home nursing for a group of girls in St. [illegible] Parochial school, and announced certificates would be awarded in a ceremony to be held Monday at the school. Three classes are in progress, she reported, at Pleasant, Martel and the Marion clinic. Ivan R. Barnhart reported on the activities of the home service committee. The home service report showed 616 cases open during the month, 25 closed and a total of 591 continued. A total of 620 office interviews were held, 13 home visits and 14 collateral visits made.

Mrs. W. K. Hamor, Junior Red Cross chairman, reported that several schools are working on correspondence albums and others are planning to make them. North Main Street school made 150 Easter favors, 200 were made by pupils at Oakland Heights and 50 by Grand Prairie junior chapter. Two first aid classes are under instruction, one at Caledonia and one at New Bloomington. Robert Solinger, first aid chairman, reported.

Other Reports Given

The following reports were made by the volunteer services:

Staff Aide—10 members volunteered 52½ hours of service assisting at the office of the fund campaign headquarters and the visitors' desk at City hospital, and three volunteer workers gave 13½ hours of service.

Social Welfare Aide service—Two members volunteered 16 hours of service.

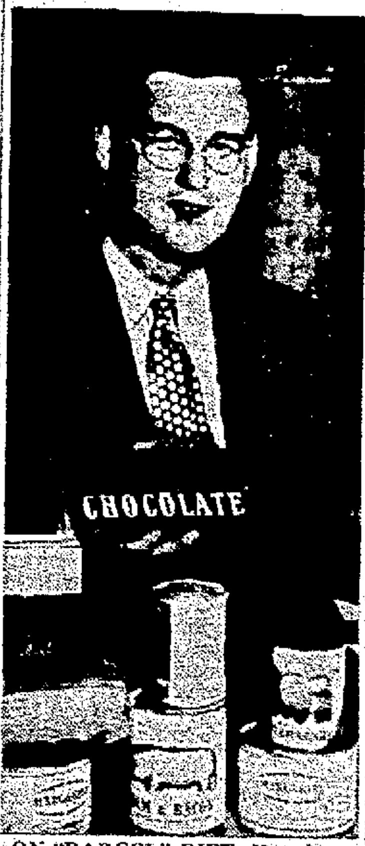
Gray Lady service—Eight Gray Ladies volunteered 64¾ hours of service assisting at City hospital and campaign fund headquarters.

Motor service—One member volunteered 29 hours of service for the fund campaign and home service.

Production—Three workers volunteered 24 hours of service making a laprobe and on garments for layettes.

It was announced that 533 appreciation cards were forwarded to workers in the recent fund campaign and a vote of appreciation was given John Watters who served as the campaign chairman.

May 12 was set for the annual meeting at which time a board of directors and officers for the coming year will be elected. All subscribers to the Red Cross are eligible to attend this meeting.



ON "PARCEL" DIET. How long an average human can exist on one of the 40,000-caloric 21-pound food parcels being shipped to Europe by several American agencies, is the object of a test begun by William Harrington, 25, Dumont, N. ## Program Is Presented At Meeting of Grange

For a meeting of United Grange at the Claridon school Tuesday night, a Tom Brenaman show was presented as the program. A good attendance was reported. Preceding the program, plans were for observance of rural life Sunday, April 25 at an evening service at the Claridon Methodist church. The home economics committee made a request for jams and jellies for Marion City hospital to be brought to the next meeting. Carl Lehner acted as master of ceremonies for the program which included naming of R. C. Hurr as the "goodneighbor," presentation of "wishing ring" award to Miss Mary Ellen Price, and a fancy hat display, first prize going to Miss Lois Roberts. It was announced that at the next meeting, Montgomery Grange members will be guests, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ruth are to be chairman for refreshments. Following the meeting, the drill team held practice.

Is Plane Travel Harmful?

A question which physicians are hearing more and more often nowadays is, "Doctor, will it do me any harm to go by plane?" Many people like the speed and convenience of air travel but want to know first whether there are medical reasons against making such a trip.

Generally, there are not, particularly where, as is often the case, the airplane is equipped with a pressure- controlled cabin. On the other hand, if the air pressure within the cabin is not controlled, passengers must adjust themselves to changes in the air pressure.

The normal, healthy person will be able to do this with little or no discomfort but the same pressure changes may be dangerous for those with some types of heart or lung disease.

Among them are those who have had the treatment known as pneumothorax. This treatment, which is used in tuberculosis, consists of injecting air into the chest cavity to bring about partial collapse of the lung or lungs. If such a person should fly in a plane without a pressure-controlled cabin, serious shifting of the structures within the chest cavity may occur during the trip. Hence, nobody with such a condition should take an airplane trip in a plane that does not have pressure control of the cabin, according to Dr. Frederick Hopkins Shillito, of Columbia university.

Patients who have a great deal of scarring of the lung tissues or other disorders which restrict the breathing capacity are not troubled during air airplane flight.

Those who have asthma seldom have an attack during an airplane trip. However, it is suggested that oxygen be available for the emergency treatment of such patients should an attack occur.

Sitting quietly in an airplane causes no more strain than moderate exercise on the ground. Thus, anyone—even a heart patient—who is able to carry on ordinary activities without distress, should stand air travel satisfactorily.

If walking for a short distance causes shortness of breath in a patient with heart disease, he should not travel by airplane unless facilities are provided for giving him oxygen continuously during the trip.

Patients who have anemia or lessening of the coloring matter or red cells in the blood usually can take airplane trips without any difficulty. However, if the blood count is below half the normal, it may be necessary to give a blood transfusion before the trip is taken in an airplane.

If the person has had a rupture of the ear drum, which has recently healed, it may reopen during an airplane trip, but this, as a rule, can be prevented by chewing gum since this helps equalize the pressure in the ear.

It is also interesting to note that infected sinuses often empty themselves of secretions as the plane rises in the air, but the sinuses may close up when the plane comes down, causing some pain.

Travel or motion sickness may be prevented by the use of certain drugs, such as tropine or hyoscine.

Questions and Answers

W. O. T.: What would be the cause of pain in the back around the left shoulder?

A. Such pain may come from many causes, such as inflammation of the muscles or nerves, a disturbance of the shoulder joint, or from inflammation of a bursa, which is a sac containing fluid, around the shoulder joint.

A thorough study by an orthopedic specialist is indicated.

PROPOSES DEFENSE SUBSTITUTE FOR UMT

Upper-Sandusky School Head Exchange Club Speaker.

A different view on universal military training was suggested by Charles Davis, superintendent of schools of Upper Sandusky, who was guest speaker yesterday at the weekly noon luncheon of the Exchange club at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Davis introduced his version of UMT during his address "Our Stake in Education."

"While the supreme court has ruled religious education out of our schools the need for moral training still exists," said Mr. Davis.

He stated his belief that moral training, physical education, sanitation and hygiene instruction could be given to high school pupils during the school year while summer training in drill, and other military subjects could be administered during the summer vacation period at some not too distant camp. The nation's youth thereby could have the benefit of military training in case of a national emergency while at the same time not depriving them of the benefits of additional education and avoiding the more objectionable moral hazards of a year's army training at some military installation.

Mr. Davis is the originator of the nationally famous "all night prom" which was inaugurated with great success at Upper Sandusky high school last year. The affair has become an annual feature of the school year and attracted so much attention among school and youth leaders that this year's "prom", which will be held the night of May 19, will be covered by Look magazine, Mr. Davis said yesterday.

A high light of the business session of the club was the presentation of a past president's pin to Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and an Exchange president's gold pin to President Robert McCollister.

All 30 members attending the meeting took part in the "wild tie" competition, the prize to be awarded to the member with the "loudest" cravat. Howard L. Davis won this event hands down with a purple tie with the words "Marion Exchange Club" embroidered on it in sequins and silver beads. Paul Bingman, principal of Mark Street school was a guest of the club at yesterday's meeting.

cisions, thus giving individual members veto power.

"A council composed of all the members is the organ which will make the decisions," the charter says.

"The council will designate each year among its members a president and two vice presidents."

It will have a seven-member executive committee and a secretary general.

Ohio Minister Killed In Gravel Avalanche

By The Associated Press

MOUNT VERNON, O., April 16—Rev. Kenneth Miller, 32, who also worked as a truck driver, suffocated today in an avalanche of gravel.

The accident occurred at the Killbuck Sand and Gravel Co. pit near Brinkhaven, 12 miles east of here.

Mr. Miller, a minister of the Church of Christ, lived at nearby Danville.

Everett Purdy, 34, was buried up to his chest, but was dug out by a fellow worker.

ANTI-TRUMAN MOVE LOSES

Ohio Interview Riles Robeson

Noted Singer Resents Questions About Communism; Gives Wallace Speech.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16 — Paul Robeson, Negro operatic singer told a Negro editor here yesterday it was none of his "damn business" whether he was a Communist.

In a news conference preceding his speech to a rally for Henry Wallace, third party candidate for president, Robeson gave the reply to a question by George Lawrence, managing editor of the Ohio State News, Negro weekly here.

"The last person in the world I would expect to ask that question," Robeson added, "would be a Negro and a representative of the Negro press. This is no longer a matter of Communism; it's a matter of civil rights. Draw your own conclusions."

He accused "big money men" of "Fascist activities" and asked, "who could blame a Negro for being a Communist or anything?"

Reporter Voices Views

After the conference Lawrence, whose paper opposes a third party, said:

"We feel that Mr. Robeson and what he believes do not represent what the majority of the Negro people believe. What he says might appeal to the workers in the cotton fields, but does not appeal to people who reason and who know that we can obtain civil rights under the American system of government."

Later in the afternoon Robeson made a street speech from a rented truck near the Ohio State university campus after university officials refused him permission to speak on the campus. Last night he spoke in Memorial hall.

Courthouse Disturbance Brings Fine of $150

Norvall Vaughn Foreman, 49, of 313 South Grand avenue was arrested by police at 6:45 p. m. last night in the basement of the courthouse and placed in city jail charged with three offenses.

He was charged with intoxication, disorderly conduct by creating a disturbance in the courthouse basement by using profane language, and resisting arrest. He was fined $150 and costs in municipal court this morning and informed if he restored the arresting officer's uniform which was damaged when he resisted arrest, the fine might be reconsidered. He is now in county jail, failing to pay his fine.

James Herman Jones, 46, of 822 Kenton acenue, who was arrested Wednesday for the fifth time on a charge of shoplifting, pleaded guilty yesterday to a petit larceny charge in municipal court and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Columbus workhouse.

Marion Restaurant Men at Convention

Ten members of the Marion Restaurant association attended the annual convention of the National Restaurant association being held this week in Cleveland. Approximately 50,000 persons from various parts of the country gathered for the convention which got under way Wednesday and is to continue through Saturday.

Attending Wednesday and Thursday from here were E. E. Ferguson, president of the local association, Robert Burton, vice president, Chris and James Turoff, C. H. Priode, R. J. Nicolosi, A. J. Nicolosi, Ralph Coberly, Pearl Haas, and Russell Youngblood, along with a group of employes of the Turoff's restaurant who attended on Wednesday only. Several of the group remained in Cleveland for the rest of the meeting.

The 1949 convention is to be held in Chicago.

MANSFIELD TRUCK BURNS

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 16—A large trailertruck, bound from North Bergen, N. J. to Cleveland, O., was destroyed by fire last night at nearby Krumsville, Pa. State Policeman Walter Hoffhines said the truck driver, Walter R. Figley, of Mansfield, O., told him the blaze started in the under-carriage of the truck and that he tried unsuccessfully to detach the trailer, containing 10,000 pounds of chemicals. The truck and cargo was valued at $15,000. Hoffhines said Figley told him.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING AT NEWARK SWEPT BY FIRE

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 16—Fire today caused damage estimated at $50,000 in the government-owned Aluminum Rod and Bar Mill building.

Huge piles of fibreglass insulation materials were burned in the blaze which was discovered at 4:45 a. m. The materials were stored in the building by Owens-Corning-Fibreglass Corp., which estimated the loss.

Fire Chief Stanley Shaw said spontaneous combustion caused the fire.

FLOODS

Cincinnati said in no event would the crest be over 64, still below the danger mark, and 14 above flood stage.

Exposed Villages Hit

Ironton, 30 miles upstream from Portsmouth, looked for 61.5 feet, two and a half above the previous forecast, by 5 p. m. today. The morning stage was 60.3, rising .1 feet an hour. Flood stage is 50 feet.

Ironton was safe behind a floodwall, but neighboring villages, isolated by the flood waters, were getting food by boat for families staying in their homes.

Gallipolis, 55 miles still further upstream, reported 58.8 feet with water edging into the business section. Flood stage there is 50 feet.

The river had crested at Pomeroy, 23 miles from Gallipolis but above the mouth of the Kanawha. The stage was 57, seven above flood.

The Ohio was falling in the 172 miles from Pittsburgh to Ma etta.

ITALY

not dirtied his face very much, in Italian eyes.

(Footnote by O'Brien: "I joined 7,000 unemployed marching in Milan: I expected hostility; I got eager attention. Most were Communists. But they asked, "How big is New York? Does every American really have a car? How much does a worker make? Do unemployed there march like this. Does everyone eat well?" They were Communists who wanted an Italy just like America, not Russia.

(Footnote by McNight: Down south, everybody has kin in America. Practically everybody wants to go to America. GI Joe is tenderly remembered. In the little places, the American visitor is king. That is why the left has recently softened its anti-American campaign: It has backfired).

►The Catholic church, through its priests and the lay Catholic action, is going all out to defeat communism.

(Footnote by O'Brien: Everywhere in the red-tinged north the church is one of the most powerful influences. Said Giancarlo Pajetta, Communist party No 3 or 4 "The church is exercising clerical terror The priests are making people promise in confession to vote against us or lose the sacraments' Emilia—of which Bologna is capital—is called the Italian Kremlin." There the fight is not between the Christian Democrats and the Popular Front. Only the church can penetrate there, and it is a direct battle between church and communism

(Footnote by McNight Down south, prelates and priests no longer make any secret of their political activity One Christian Democrat editor said "It is parish against cell")

So, these correspondents believe, many Italians who enthusiastically followed Italy's sharp postwar swing to the left because they hoped communism and socialism would bring something like America's country will vote for parties whose social and economic programs they mistrust but which promise to defend the country against Soviet expansion.

Conjecture on Weather

The size of the vote is the single biggest factor If very bad weather, or leftist intimidation, keeps millions at home, the left will be helped. Experts say virtually every vote above 70 per cent will go to anti-Communist parties The Vatican is reported to figure that 83 per cent will vote Most other observers think that is low.

In the 1946 plebiscite on the monarchy, 89 1 per cent voted. The issue, this time, is bigger and more vital. Some believe more than 90 per cent will ballot

A seamstress tells you she will take her 82-year-old mother, an invalid, to vote. A sheperd walks 105 miles, with his sheep, to vote. Of Rome's million-odd voters, less than 25,000 have failed to pick up voting certificates

Smith Assails Monetary Fund

Introduces Bill Proposing U.S. Withdrawal from International Setup.

Cong. Frederick C. Smith of Marion yesterday introduced a bill in the house providing for the withdrawal of the United States from the international monetary fund, according to a news report received from Washington. He said the action recently taken by the French political authority in adjusting the value of the franc to conform more nearly to its true, free and generally accepted value ought to demonstrate the inherent danger to international relations in the international monetary fund and should serve as a warning to the United States that grave trouble is in store for it unless it withdraws from this international scheme.

"It is vital to the preservation of what is left of normal international relations that we get our thinking straight on this whole matter right now," he said. "The fund has been in operation since March 1, 1947, and failure and discredit are its record."

Defends French Action

Declaring France should not be blamed for its action in revaluating the franc the congressman said: "Back of that procedure were the peasants and other enterprisers who produce the necessaries of life and pay the taxes. Their refusal to accept the franc at the 'red' rate and their resistance to political robbery became so intense that the political authority was compelled to yield and exercise a little integrity." He added it was too early to know to what extent the French producers will benefit, "but in this dark hour of rapidly developing worldwide tyranny their effort shines forth as a most welcome ray of hope."

Despite the objections of the fund officials, Congressman Smith said, the French political authority did not violate any rules of the international monetary fund for, he said, "there are no rules. Certainly none that are founded on reality, or that are not so completely hedged by extenuating phraseology as to nullify their meaning. Every signatory to the fund agreement knew when it signed that it could violate any provision whenever it stated its purpose to do so and every forthright person familiar with the evolution of this clandestinely jerry-built international monetary contrivance knows this to be a fact."

Dollars for Foreign Aid

"As the international monetary fund's financial statement shows," Cong. Smith told the house, "and as every one who understood this scheme knew when it was passed would be the case, it is being used to supply foreign countries with dollars, the same as all the other foreign aid schemes. The fund's statement for the month of March, 1948, shows that it has 'loaned' the dollar equivalent of roundly $860,000,000, approximately 99 per cent of which consisted of American dollars."

Terming the fund an international communitarian scheme, Mr. Smith asked for early enactment of his bill providing for immediate withdrawal of the United States from the fund "in order to prevent further injury to international relations and universal degradation of morals inherent in the operation of the international monetary fund, and to save the nation as much as possible from the anathema this is bringing down upon it."

GULF OIL DEALERS AT DISTRICT MEETING HERE

A meeting of 50 Gulf Oil dealers representing an area of five counties was held in the ballroom at Hotel Harding last night. The function was sponsored by the Gulf company for the dealers under the direction of J. W. Mathews, local distributor, and F. W. Meyer, representative of the Marion and Mansfield territory.

After a dinner, talks were given by Boydon Jann, district manager, and his assistant, Robert Tate, both of Columbus. The men pointed out the highlights of a film showing the process of developing Gulf products.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

It was Georges' turn to goggle at me now. His eyes were filled with blank astonishment, and I saw that he had no conception whatever of my meaning.

"I do not understand you," he said. "Nor can I understand how you can say that Olina will refuse to marry me. She ought to honor me for my bravery in telling her the truth."

"Undoubtedly she will do just that," I said, "but she is a proud, sensitive woman and — oh, Georges!" I broke off impatiently, "can't you get it through your head that no woman on earth would marry a man after he had sent her a letter 'confessing' "—I stressed the word sarcastically—"that he almost had postponed the wedding until he found out what the emotions of another woman toward him were, and that woman one to whom he once had been betrothed.

"No," I lifted my hand imperiously. "Do not say a word. I listened to you. Now, you listen to me.

"You are under no compulsion of honor or of any other sentiment, to make such a confession to Olina," I said. "I grant you, that if you had discovered that you loved Mary and not Olina, then you would have been bound in honor to confess that to Olina. But if you go through with this insane plan, you will lose your bride, you will humiliate the woman you love beyond measure and for what? So that you may invite your soul to tea and have the 'catharsis of confession.'"

I tried to make the words I had quoted sound as if they were dripping with scorn, and wondered if I had succeeded when I saw horror dawning in the eyes fixed on mine.

"After all," I went on, "this whole thing is so useless. You had a brain wave and planned a certain unforgivable thing, but one which you thought was the right thing for you to do. Then some true friends came along, and prevented you from carrying out your purpose. Those friends never will speak of your folly, they will blot it from their memory as soon as possible. Nobody else need ever know of it. Then why do you have to drag it to the surface, ruin your life, and make the woman you love most unhappy, all to satisfy a morbid impulse for confession?"

Before I had finished, he had buried his head in his hands, and his body was shaking not from sobs—he is not a weeping man—but from convulsive shudders rippling along his muscles.

I stopped speaking, kept silence for several seconds, waiting for him to lift his head, then, with a wry face at what Dicky would say to me when I, too, should indulge in the "catharsis of confession," I crossed to the shaking man's side, and put a firm hand on his shoulder.

"Look here, dear boy," I said, for it was given to me in that moment to know that it was a boy's soul in a man's body that was being crucified. "You are taking this thing altogether too seriously. You made a grave mistake, yes, but no harm has been done except to your own emotions. And there is no use of tearing yourself to pieces over something which is already water under the bridge. Can't you bring yourself to look at this thing sensibly?"

The shudders left his body as I talked, and when I stopped he uncovered his eyes and looked up at me.

"Will you answer one question?" he asked.

"Of course, a dozen if you like," I answered.

"No one will do," he said, and waited at least two seconds before speaking again.

"If your husband were in my place," he said, "would you forgive him, or exculpate him for not telling you the truth?"

Everything but the squeal? ...Not quite

Utilization of livestock by-products is important to all farmers and ranchers. Of the total dollars received by Swift & Company for lambs, 15% to 25% comes from by-products. Cattle by-products amount to 10% to 20%. With hogs it is 2% to 5%. When bidding on live animals, Swift & Company's buyers estimate the yield and grade of edible meat. In their estimate they figure, too, the value of all by-products, including hides and wool.

Livestock by-products have greatly increased the value of your meat animals. Since earliest times, man has used hides and wool to make clothing. But only in the past half-century has research found the present great variety of uses for by-products. Fats, and lanolin from wool, are the base of many cosmetics, healing creams and beauty aids. Photographic film is coated with a gelatin compound. Other uses of gelatin and glues are almost endless. Animal fats are the main raw material of toilet soaps.

Life has been lengthened for people with diabetes, anemia and other diseases. They are helped by drugs such as insulin, liver extract, pepsin, adrenalin. These are all made from the glands of livestock. But for the painstaking care of meat packers, these glands would go to waste. This happened during the wartime "black market" in meats, and the supply of insulin ran low.

With the growth of meat-packing plants, the war on waste began in earnest. Science found new ways to use by-products of your animals. Bristles make brushes. Bones make knife handles. Hair makes upholstery padding. Bones, blood and scraps go into animal and poultry feeds. Yes, we find use for every valuable part of cattle, hogs, and lambs.

Each new use for by-products adds value to livestock . . . and directly benefits producers.

Let City Cousin pull and jerk . . .
He'll find "a cinch" is real hard work!

Speaking of By-Products . . . Here's a movie about 'em—just the film to complete your community or school program: a 16mm. sound, color cartoon, "BY-PRODUCTS." It runs 10 minutes—and tells the story of livestock by-products and their uses. You may also want to show "MEAT BUYING CUSTOMS," another 10-minute cartoon. For a history of the livestock-meat-packing industry, you'll like "LIVESTOCK AND MEAT"—49 minutes, black and white. "A NATION'S MEAT" is a shorter version—30 minutes—full of information on the American meat supply. Then there is "COWS AND CHICKENS . . . USA," a story of diversified farming—the dairy and poultry business in a nutshell. Please give us at least a month's advance notice to handle bookings. We can ship by express or parcel post. Only cost to you is payment of express or postage one way. A 16mm. sound projector is required. Order from Agricultural Research Dept., Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Illinois.

Gage Rate of Planting Corn by the Yield Expected

by George H. Dungan
University of Illinois

Proper balance between the number of plants per acre and the ability of your land to produce, is needed for maximum corn yield. On the average, corn yields are highest when the ears weigh approximately ½ pound each.

Use of the average size ear, as a good measure of whether or not the number of plants is great enough for maximum yield, is a result of many field trials. These tests have been made at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station and other Corn Belt stations.

On this same basis, if your average ear last fall weighed over ½ pound, you probably did not get maximum yield. With more plants in your fields, producing more and smaller ears, your cribs might have been fuller.

To put these results to work, you should know that 7,000 half-pound ears per acre are needed for a 50-bushel yield. Seventy-five bushels require 10,500 such ears; one hundred bushels, 14,000 ears; and one hundred twenty-five bushels, 17,500 half-pound ears.

At planting time, yield of your land should be estimated. Keep in mind that not every kernel will produce a plant. Expect 90 plants from each 100 kernels, under favorable conditions.

If you estimate your land can produce 50 bushels per acre, you should end the season with 7,000 plants. This calls for planting two kernels per hill in rows 40 inches apart each way. With this same spacing, if one estimates yield at 75 bushels, he should plant three kernels per hill; 100 bushels, four kernels; and 125 bushels, five kernels.

A Steer is NOT all Beef

Let's take a look at this steer. It weighs 1,000 lbs. It's not all steak. In fact, only a little more than half is salable beef. Hanging in Swift's cooling room, our steer has become two sides of beef. Together they weigh 543 lbs. What happened to the rest?

Modern meat packers save everything of value from the steer—heart, tongue, liver, sweetbreads and other fancy meats. Hides for leather; bones, blood and scraps for animal feeds. Glands for medicines. All told, 161 lbs. of the steer is saved in by-products. But 296 lbs. is shrinkage and material of no value. Only the meat and by-products can be sold.

BY-PRODUCTS
WASTE

What happens to the money the meat packer receives? It is used to buy livestock and other raw materials. It meets the expenses of slaughtering, dressing, refrigerating, transporting and selling. It pays rent, insurance, taxes—all the costs of doing business. The amount remaining after all of these expenses are paid is the meat packer's profit. Over a period of years, Swift & Company's profit has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the products we sell.

That's the explanation of the "spread" between livestock prices and wholesale meat prices.

We All Want the Top Dollar

You, as a producer of livestock, want to get the best price for your animals—"the top dollar." As a salesman for Swift & Company, selling the products which result from these animals, I, too, want to get the top dollar.

The meat packer's buyer has to judge the grade of the animals and estimate how they will yield. He then makes his bids in competition with buyers for many meat packers and other commercial slaughterers. To get the animals, he has to offer going prices. Otherwise he just won't get them; somebody else will. And that "going price" which he must pay depends on the number of animals on the market and the demand for them.

After Swift & Company has made the animals which it has purchased into meat and by-products, we must sell them, again in stiff competition. If we don't offer meat at the going price, retail meat dealers will buy from somebody else who does. This competition in both buying and selling is so keen that we have to operate on a margin of profit which averages but a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled.

In our business, as in yours, it takes hard work and good management to come out with money ahead on a year's operation. Our efficiency in selling meat and by-products results in important economies and savings. Only through such savings can we earn our profit—and help increase the value of your livestock.

Martha Logan's Recipe for FRIED CHICKEN WITH GOLDEN GRAVY

(Yield- 5-6 servings)

|---|---|
| 1 frying chicken (2½-3 lb.) | ½ teaspoon pepper |
| ½ cup yellow corn meal | 6 tablespoons bland lard |
| ¼ cup flour | About ¾ cup water |
| 1½ tablespoons salt | 3 cups milk |

Clean, wash and cut up chicken into serving pieces. Dry. Combine corn meal, flour, salt and pepper in paper bag. Put chicken pieces into bag, close top and shake bag until pieces are well coated. Reserve excess corn meal-flour mixture for gravy. Brown chicken well in hot bland lard in heavy skillet. Add ¼ cup water. Cover tightly and simmer slowly for 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Add remaining water as needed. Remove chicken and keep it warm while preparing gravy. Combine corn meal-flour mixture with the drippings in skillet. Brown lightly. Stir in the milk and cook until corn meal is cooked and gravy thickened. Serve gravy with chicken.

By Hal Boyle

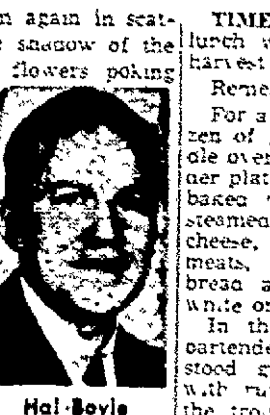
NEW YORK — time "free lunch" is —at least it has one foot room door.

ming back the hard way, at a time. So far it seen here chiefly in Stork clubs along the Third avenue.

cheese and salami sandwiches now bloom again in scattered bars in the shadow of the "El" like spring flowers poking up through old man snow. And barflies—excuse me, gentlemen with a dime—are greeting them with gladness. In the tonier establishments even the pickle is back.



Hal Boyle

The new free lunch is only a morsel of its old robust self. But its comeback on Third avenue is significant. Why? Because Third avenue is to the elbow-bending gentry what the Aberdeen proving ground is to artillery—a testing field that sets the trend.

In the bars along this noisy thoroughfare where roaring overhead "El" trains make conversation a muscular feat Park avenue comes to ogle "the characters." The characters" like to ogle right back.

Fads that become popular here often set the pattern for the town—spread one way by the characters' and the other by the penthouse swells. This may spell a new future for the free lunch.

TIME WAS WHEN the free lunch was big enough to give a harvest hand the colic.

Remember?

For a nickel beer a hungry citizen of good standing could waddle over to a counter creaking under plates stacked with roast beef, baked ham, boiled ham, oysters, steamed clams, three kinds of cheese, hardboiled eggs, lunch meats, pickles, relish, stacked bread and huge slices of raw white onion, fragrant of Bermuda.

In the classier joints a burly bartender with a "keep off" look stood guard to shoo customers with run-down heels away from the trough.

What happened to the "free lunch?"

"What happened to it?" said one bartender. "They just ate it all up. Too many people got to thinking saloons were boarding houses." Others say it was buried with prohibition. It didn't die out entirely, however. It survived in anemic form in the present cocktail hour custom of serving canapes. These one-bite-and-they're-all-gone sandwiches are so tiny that a big man can lose one in a hollow tooth.

THESE REVOLTING delicacies consumed more in sorrow than in anger are blamed by some elderly bartenders as the real cause of increasing jitters among their unsteady clients.

"They're too small to support a vitamin," said one gloomily. "And what's in 'em—little baby fish in erl, stuff that looks and tastes like toothpaste cheese that don't even have a smell, and eggs that come out of a sturgeon instead of a hen. No wonder people get the shakes."

But if the free lunch makes a real comback the canapes will be cut out—the hors d'oeuvres will have had their hour. This will be true in the homes as well as in the bars.

Whether she wants or not a hostess will have to serve her cocktail guests king-sized pastrami sandwiches instead of embalmed minnows. That'll be the day!

Delegates Give Reports At Navy Club Meeting

Reports of the recent Ohio Squadron meeting of the Navy club were given by two delegates attending, S. Harold Haughn and John T. Coleman, at a meeting of the Marion Navy club Monday night in the clubrooms. Mr. Haughn elected to the junior executive office and Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds elected historian of the club. Mrs. Reynolds also was elected conductress of the ladies' auxiliary to the Navy club in a session also held Monday night.

A special meeting of the Sea Scout troop was announced for Thursday night in the Navy club rooms at which time the troop, sponsored by the Navy club, will confer the name of a deceased member of the club on the troop. The name will be S.S.S. Robert Brown, honoring Robert Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown of Latourette street. All members of the Navy club and auxiliary are urged to attend.

A. L. Watt was named service officer for the year 1948. Delegates and alternates were elected for the national reunion of the Navy club to be held June 24-26 in Fort Wayne, Ind. Mr. Haughn and Mr. Coleman were named delegates and H. D. Pickett and A. L. Watt, alternates. A "hard times" party will be held for the club auxiliary and friends April 24 in the clubs rooms.

Episcopal Rector Here Attends Conference

Rev. F. W. Leech, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, is in Washington, D. C. attending a conference at the College of Preachers, institution at the location of the Washington cathedral. He is one of 20 men attending the conference which is one of several arranged by Canon Theodore O. Wedel, warden of the college, to which small groups of clergymen are invited. The subject of the conference is, "Preaching the Theology of the Cross," and as part of the program, each minister is to deliver a sermon before the group, after which constructive criticism is offered.

Leader of the conference is Rev. Clifford Stanley, associate professor of apologetics and homiletics of the Virginia Theological seminary. Participants are invited from all parts of the country. There are lectures and group discussions on improving mannerisms, sermon delivery and teaching. In addition to preaching in the college chapel Rev. Leech has shared in the work of special seminar groups, information from the conference stated.

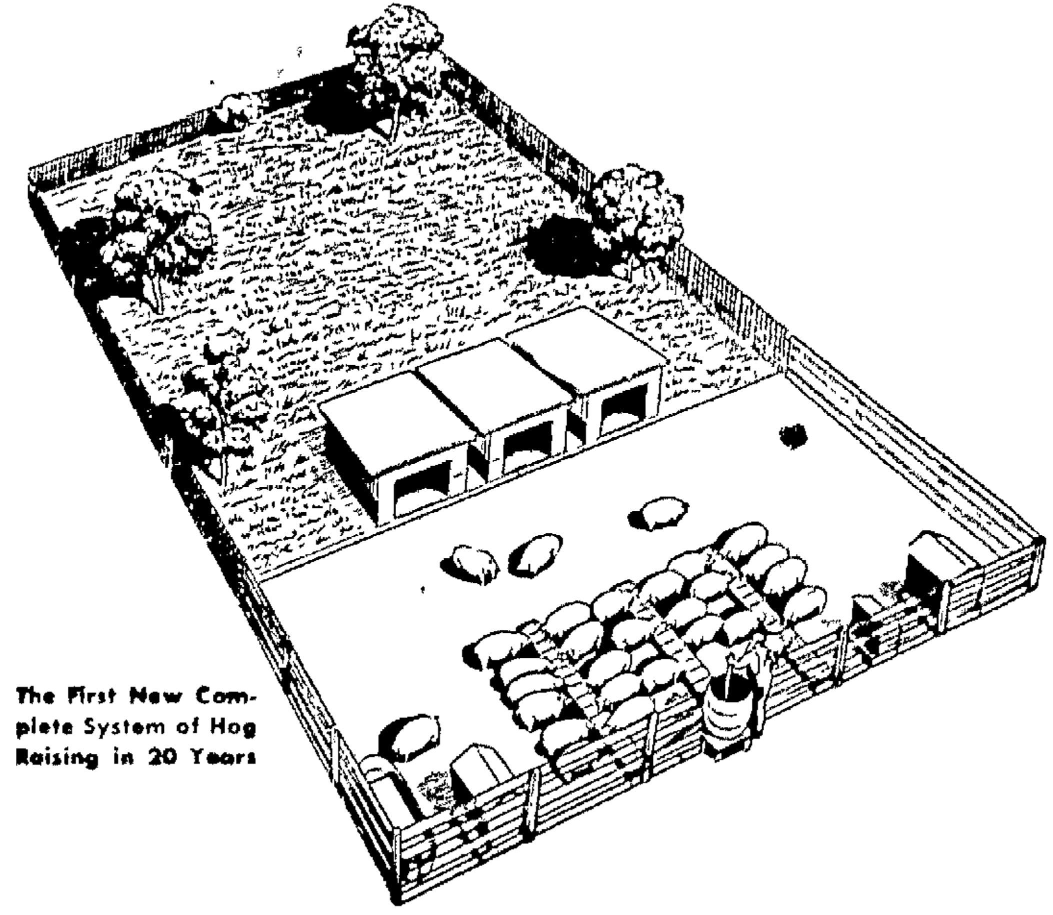
A NEW Idea in Hog Raising!



The First New Complete System of Hog Raising in 20 Years

Hog Raisers! We want you to come in, get a free package of blueprints, a dandy hog book and complete directions for the Semi-Solid System. Don't miss it. In all our years of selling to farmers, we've never seen a more important development in hog feeding.

It's the best labor saver we've seen yet. ONE man can feed up to 1,000 hogs on only 40 acres of land . . . alone.

Pipe Semi-Solid PIG Emulsion (as a drink) to 100 hogs in 5 minutes. Fill self-feeders over the fence without even driving into the feed-lot. New type houses are better ventilated and easier to clean.

It's the hog raising system of tomorrow — proposed by the wise men of the hog world. We will gladly assist you in planning the Semi-Solid System to fit your farm.

Substantial Business Gain In March Reported by C. of C.

Business took a substantial upswing in Marion during the month of March, according to the monthly report on business factors contained in the current issue of the Marion Chamber of Commerce news bulletin.

All but two factors gained over February figures and all but four showed gains over a year ago. Principal recessions during March was in industrial employment which the news bulletin explained was due to shortages of coal and steel. The industrial employment figure given for March was 9,235 against 9,426 for February.

Counterbalancing this recession was the rise in employment resulting from Marion's new industry, the Fulfillment Corp., and an anticipated high employment rate of the Maxon Construction Co. which will build the Monsanto Chemical Co. plant at the Scioto Ordnance grounds.

Bank Debits Up

Showing a substantial gain over February figures were bank debits listed at $29,476,641, a gain of $4,000,000. Other increases included value of proposed construction estimated according to building permits issued, at $129,750 for March. The February figure was only $14,725 and the figure for March 1947, $65,150.

Prepaid sales tax for week ending March 20 (countywide) was $16,731, a gain of more than $2,000 over the corresponding period in February and of more than $5,000 over that period a year ago. Total to date was given as $156,205 against $131,336, as of the same time a year ago.

Five firms and four individuals were greeted as new members during the month. They include L. & S. Neon Signs Co., Mail-Me-Monday of Marion, Marion Distributing Co., Marion Office Equipment Co., and Eddie Steele, Inc. Also welcomed were Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of schools, Graden Sobers and Jack Weis, Marion Power Shovel Co., and Paul R. Drake.

Safety Report

Seven firms in the Industrial Safety council reported no lost time accidents during the month of February. They were: American Malleable Castings Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Erie Railroad, Huber Manufacturing Co., Marion Machine Tool Co., Marion Rapid Transit Co., and the Marion Water Co.

Coming events for the month of April are headlined by the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington April 26-29. Chamber President Robert T. Mason and National Counselor Harold J. Grigsby are among those who will attend from the Marion Chamber. Of local interest is a Sales Ad club trip to Nela Park in Cleveland on April 28 as guests of the Ohio Public Service Co.

Columbus Red Birds Walloped By Milwaukee in AA Opener

By The Associated Press

Three western division clubs were off to victorious starts in the 1948 American Association's baseball pennant race in last night's four premiere games in the league's eastern cities.

It was the first time in 14 years that the Triple-A circuit hasn't split its inaugurals between the east and the west. The weatherman gave the teams a break and a total of 49,139 fans turned out at Toledo, Columbus, Louisvilles and Indianapolis for the Association's 47th season openers. The attendance bettered last year's total figure by 15,508.

Results of last night's games: St. Paul 7, Toledo 3; Milwaukee 12, Columbus 2; Minneapolis 4, Louisville 1, and Indianapolis the only western club to go down 6, Kansas City 2. The Blues were to defeat on opening night.

Good Prophet

Frank Lane, American Association president, proved a near prophet in his prediction of 50,000 attendance for the first games. The turnout included 14,128 paid customers at Columbus, the largest crowd ever to watch an Association opener.

The Milwaukee Brewers, Junior World Series champions, spoiled Columbus' opener, however, by hammering three Red Bird pitchers for 16 hits—including Damon Phillips' home run—and a 12 to 2 victory. Meanwhile, Glenn Elliott, Brewer hurler, allowed Columbus only seven safe blows.

St. Paul proved another opening night spoiler, subduing Toledo, 7 to 3, before 9,737 spectators. The Saints rapped Emery Rudd and Joe Ostrowski for a dozen safeties, while the Mud Hens got only seven off Pat McGlothin and George Coffman.

Chandler in Louisville

Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler watched the Minneapolis Millers trim the Louisville Colonels, 4 to 1, before a Louisville crowd of 13,403. A neat 7-hit pitching chore by Rube Fischer, combined with four double play and some timely hits gave the Millers the decision.

Indianapolis was the lone eastern division winner, downing the champion Kansas City Blues, 6 to 2, before 11,871 opening night fans.

Tonight's schedule:
Milwaukee at Columbus.
St. Paul at Toledo.
Minneapolis at Louisville.
Kansas City at Indianapolis.

"WHO'S ON FIRST?" NO JOKE TO TRIBE

Vice President Greenberg Out with Aching Back.

By The Associated Press

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 16—"Who's on first?" — the baseball gag line made famous by the comedy team of Abbott and Costello—certainly could be applied to the Cleveland Indians today.

The first base picture became even more muddled yesterday when Vice President Hank Greenberg developed a stiff and aching back that kept him on the sidelines.

With Eddie Robinson treating an ankle injury in Cleveland, Elbie Fletcher still shelved with a bruise on the arch of his foot, the first base assignment in the exhibition game with the New York Giants yesterday went to Walt Judnich. Ordinarily a center fielder, Judnich played first part of last season with the St. Louis Browns.

Hammering Hank replaced Robinson four days ago in Tulsa, Okla., and had played every inning of every game since. Yesterday he went through batting and infield practice before asking that he be left out of the lineup.

Bob Feller faced the Giants at Evansville, Ind., yesterday in his final appearance before next Tuesday's opener against the Browns and had the misfortune of opposing a pitcher who, for yesterday at least, was a slightly better hurler.

Sheldon (Available) Jones handed the Redskins their first whitewash of the year, 2 to 0, as the series was evened at seven wins apiece.

Feller gave the Giants only four hits in seven innings, while Jones limited the Indians to the same total over the full nine innings.

But Feller walked the first two batters to face him in the first inning. They scored on a single and two long fly balls for the only runs of the contest.

The Indians and Giants play their last exhibition here today before turning to Cleveland for Saturday and Sunday games.

Orioles Ponder Taking Gripe to Chandler

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, April 16 — Baltimore Oriole officials are meeting today to decide whether to take their gripes about the Cleveland Indians to Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler.

Oriole Manager Tommy Thomas is all steamed up over what he charged was the second violation by the Cleveland American league team of a working agreement between the two clubs.

He protested to Cleveland President Bill Veeck about the recent deal in which third baseman Al Rosen was sent to Kansas City.

The Oriole pilot said the agreement between his International league team and the Indians states clearly that Baltimore has "first claim on any and all players to be optioned" by Cleveland.

Later in Cleveland, Veeck asserted that he had talked to Baltimore officials and Thomas had become reconciled to the deal.

But Thomas denied this "emphatically," stating that he was "still in favor of taking the case to Commissioner Chandler."

Veeck claimed "the only way we could get pitcher Charlie Wensloff from the New York Yankees was to give Kansas City the use of Rosen on option. Otherwise, Wensloff would have gone to one of two other clubs bidding for him."

Thomas accused the Indians of another violation of the agreement this year when they optioned pitcher Ed Garcia to Oklahoma City. Garcia was "another player we figured on," he said.

Harding Opens Inter-School Track Season at Upper Sandusky Today

Harding High school's tracksters will trek to Upper Sandusky today to engage the Northern Ohio league champions in the school's inaugural test of the spring sports campaign. They were rained out in the first scheduled meet earlier in the week when they were to meet Bexley.

Upper, already with a victory over Findlay this year by a score of 85½ to 32½ in a dual meet and defending champions of the NOL for the past two years, are expected to make a tough opening opponent for the local thinclads.

Other meets in which the Harding Prexies are scheduled to participate include Delaware Willis next Tuesday and the Fremont Ross relays April 24. The Fremont relays are being run for the first time this season, and the Prexies are entered in the six team meet in lieu of the Ohio Wesleyan relays to be held on the same date. Ashland, Fostoria, Bellevue, Fremont and Sandusky will also compete in the meet.

The event is scheduled to get under way at 4 o'clock today, and track coach Kenny Somerlot has nominated the following tracksters after a squad cut following the intramural trials April 7. The number of trials each boy participates in will depend on the size of the Upper Sandusky field and the sequence of events, and points will be counted on three places.

100-yard dash — Gherman, Smith, Umbaugh.

220-yard dash — Smith, Zimmerman, Umbaugh.

440-yard dash—Wilson, Dickason, Rennert

AKRON GOLFER MAN TO BEAT IN CAVALIER

By The Associated Press

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 16 — Soft-spoken Herman Heiser looked like the man to beat today as 15 of the nation's top-ranking professional golfers teed off in the $10,000 Cavalier specialists' tournament.

The Akron, O., stylist was red hot in a couple of tuneup rounds over the par 69 Cavalier Country Club 6,065-yard layout. After shooting a 64 Wednesday, the balding Keiser came back yesterday to establish a new course record with a seven-under-par 62.

There was one fellow around today, though, who wasn't so sure that Keiser was going to win this one. He was Herman Keiser himself.

"That was one of the three best rounds I've ever shot in my life," said Keiser, whose 62 sliced one stroke from the course record set in 1946 by Chandler Harper, of Portsmouth, Va.

"But I think that the favorite for this 54-hole medal event is Chandler Horper. Harper knows this course like a book—and he's been playing brilliantly."

Heiser and Harper played golf together when Herman was stationed at the nearby Norfolk Naval Training Station during the war. They teamed in 1942 to win the Miami four-ball classic, and they were partners in the same event in 1946.

Whoever manages to come out ahead in today's 18-hole medal round will remain there for a day at least. For Saturday, 10 of the golfers—plus non-playing captains Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen—will engage in a two-ball "specialists team" battle for which the tournament got its name. Sunday, they wind up the three-day stay with 36 holes of medal competition.

Hagen and Sarazen will name each player to make each shot in the two-ball struggle that may see par handed one of its worst lickings in history One player from each team will do the driving, one will handle the long iron firing, one the short iron, one will do the trouble-shooting and one the putting.

MANSFIELD RELAYS START

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 16—The famed Mansfield Relays—top high school invitional track event of Ohio's outdoor season—started today. The entry list was swollen with 938 athletes from 63 schools as the opening gun sent the first preliminary race off this afternoon. In the fast field were six 1947 state champions.

"SERIES PREVIEW" IN BOSTON STARTS TODAY

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, April 16 — A series that many fans—and some experts think will be a preview of next fall's World Series will begin today at Braves field when the Boston National leaguers entertain the rival American league Red Sox.

The teams have met twice in their Florida training camps, the Braves winning 4-1 at Bradenton and the Sox 3-1 at Sarasota.

Manager Bekeza Teaches Baseball By Demonstration

A rookie catcher, squatting low on his heels, missed stopping a curve and Manager Zeke Bekeza of the Marion Cubs said, "Hold up you pitchers," to the four mound hopefuls who were working out on the cinders outside the wet Lincoln Park diamond.

"You catchers," he said. "You're squatting too low. You can't move sitting on your heels Get up on your feet. Here let me show you."

A pitcher, working on a curve, let one go that broke just right, but a batter could tell it was a curve coming up from the way it was delivered. "You're letting go of it too high," said Zeke." No deception that way. Here, let me show you."

That's the way it goes with the new manager of the Marion club of the Ohio-Indiana league. He not only tells 'em, he shows how it should be done.

Zeke is a guy that believes in putting everything into learning the game.

"Spend some time every day working on your weak points," he tells his charges. "But get the right attitude about it. Don't tell yourself you are wild and won't ever get any control, because if you think that, you always will be wild."

Tall (six-foot-two) lanky Zeke is in his third year as a manager, having spent two seasons guiding the Cubs of Elizabethton, Tenn. He can play any position on the field and probably will before the season is done. Last year when the Appalachian league picked an all-star team, Zeke was named the utility player for his fine work at all positions. His specialty is catching — and teaching youngsters the game of baseball.

Zeke lives with his wife, Katheryn, and two youngsters at 625 Oak street. In the off season, the Bekezas live in East Chicago, Ill., his home town.

REDLEGS WIN 22ND GRAPEFRUIT GAME

Drop Syracuse Farm Hands 8-6 at Lexington.

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Ind., April 16—The high-flying Cincinnati Reds, concluding their most successful exhibition season in recent years, got a little closer to home today as they tangled here with the Syracuse Chiefs of the International league.

Ken Raffensberger, who is due to start one of the Reds' league games next week at St. Louis, was nominated by Manager Johnny Neun to attempt a nine-inning stint in today's contest. Bud Bebber is his opposition.

The Redlegs, victors in 22 of 34 exhibition games, had to put on the steam in the closing innings yesterday at Lexington, Ky., to down their Syracuse farm hands 8-6.

It looked like a runaway in the first three rounds as the Rhinelanders piled up six runs. Neun began substituting at that point and the Chiefs began catching up.

Starter Red Lively had been a puzzle to the International innings, but in the third they put leaguers in the first and second over one run and then added another in the fourth.

The Chiefs let go on Lively in the fifth, counting two markers, and pushed over as many in the sixth before Kent Peterson took over. The young left-hander gave up one hit the rest of the way.

The Reds broke the 6-6 deadlock in the eighth on two walks, a hit batsman and the second double play of the day by Syracuse. Another marker came in the ninth when Marv Rickert tripled after the first batsman had strolled.

67 Cars Nominated For Speedway Race

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, April 16 — Sixty-seven cars, the biggest entry list since 1931, had been nominated today for the 32nd annual 500 mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 31.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said he expected several other entries postmarked before the deadline at midnight last night and the final total might equal the all-time high of 72 in 1931.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

COLUMBUS, O., already has made a $35,000 bid for the 1949 Professional Golfers association tournament but Richmond, Va., still in the bidding, is only five G's behind. Whitey Abel, who has won money with more than one unsound horse, maintains that Stanley Sagner's derby hope, Saggy, is sometimes like Assault. Because of his weak underpinning, Saggy toes out a trifle with one foot. He can win on soft, well-cushioned tracks but can't do anything on those fast "cardboard" racing strips like Belmont or Chicago.

23rd Annual Kansas Relays Open Today

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 16—The 23rd annual Kansas Relays—one of the major trials for the United States Olympic team candidates—opens today with the grueling decathlon.

The favorite was Irvin (Moon) Mondschein of New York university who has three national AAU championships to his credit.

Half the decathlon events — broad jump, 100 meter dash, shot put, high jump and 400 meter run—were on schedule today.

Among the best bets to better records are Charles Fonville, Michigan shot putter, Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace college hurdler, and Fortune Gordien, Minnesota discus ace.

V.F.W. Baseball Team To Practice Sunday

The VFW Post 3313 baseball team will hold a practice session at Harding field Sunday at 2 p. m. Any one interested in trying out should be present as the season will open for the Vets May 2.

Manager King Bacon urges that all team members be on hand for the workout and to receive information regarding the organization backing the team.

So far the VFW team has been forced to book road games only as the local ball parks which are available are not fit to play on. The team has been trying to get the use of Lincoln Park on Sundays when the Cubs are on the road, but so far all attempts have been futile, Bacon said.

WU OPENS TRACK SEASON TOMORROW

nis, Baseball and Football Also on Bishop Program.

Special to The Star

ELAWARE, O., April 16 — Wesleyan's track team will s outdoor season Saturday entertaining the Lutherans of al at Selby field.

e Bishops will have prac- ly the same team that hand- he Caps a 102-25 trouncing year, with Quentin Brels- Wesleyan's crack distance ner, in his last year of col- ate competition. Brelsford is ning for the 5,000-meter race and plans to run mile and two-mile events spring.

Gene Blackburn, middle dis- ce ace from Delaware, may see action Saturday. He suf- ed a slightly sprained ankle practice last week and may be back for later meets.

Other Bishop teams in action urday include the baseball, nis, and spring football squads. The Red and Black nine will out to avenge a 3-1 setback Bowling Green on the Fal- n diamond. The two-run de- went to the Bee-Gees last urday at Edwards field when Bishop hitters failed to back the four-hit hurling of South- w Reggie Brooks.

Coach Bob Shanklin's tennis m plays host to Wittenberg hopes to get on the win trail er losing its opener at Ohio e last week.

The gridders will climax their ing drills with a regulation me in which Coach Glenn zer will divide his charges o the "Reds" and "Whites."

nny Skies Promised r Santa Anita Tune-ups

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 16 — ined out two Saturdays in a w, Western Harness Racing of- ials were given promise of ght skies tomorrow for two ecial sulky events.

Designed as tune-up races for twin $50,000 specials later in meeting, the weekend features the free-for-all Pomona Pace the Del Mar Trot.

A throng of 12,000 to 15,000 is ected—if the weather is good. Nine horses have been named the pace, including Lindy Fraser's Dr. Stanton, Jimmy Creed, Forbes Chief and, as a surprise entry, April Star, winner of the $50,000 Golden West Pace a year ago.

Five were listed for the feature trot, including Proximity, Kaola, Chestertown, Lingo Direct and Don Scott.

Veteran Sep Palin had intended to send his Victory Song into the race but decided to hold the horse for a later prep.

Clockers at the track predicted the charmed two-minute mile would be broken in the pace.

C. A. Harrison, 18-year-old star of the 1947 meeting in California, raced for the first time this year in a pace yesterday. The old boy showed good speed in the early stages but tired and finished next to last.

Sheppard Hanover won the day's feature over Windsor Guy and Miss Peter Scot, and paid $4.40, $3.60 and $3.10.

McNAMARA'S CLEVERNESS AN ALSO RAN IN FEATURE

Dr. J. G. McNamara's trotter Cleverness was an also ran in Santa Anita's feature race yesterday which was won by Sheppard Hanover in 2:11 3-5 over the one and one-sixteenth mile course. Buddy Patchen, McNamara's crack pacer, was scratched in the eighth race which was won by War Master in 2:02 4-5. Foy Funderburg, driver of McNamara's horses, drove Mose Hanover to a second place finish in that one mile 14 class pace.

County Thinclads Aim to End Drought of Record-Setting

When the county high school cinder specialists gather at Prospect May 8 for the finals of the annual county track meet, they'll be aiming to end a three-year drought of record-setting.

It was in 1944 that the last county track records were set, and the latest field mark was established in 1942.

One record, Almendinger's five-foot, eight-inch high jump for Prospect, was set back in 1934 when the records first were compiled.

Four years ago John Cusick of Pleasant ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 17 seconds and Kirby of Prospect ran the 220-lows in 27.5 seconds to set the latest records that remain on the books today. In 1946 Hedges of Pleasant tied Cusick's time over the 120-highs and not since then has the caliber of county high school trackmen equalled that of their predecessors.

Though Prospect has won the annual county meet 10 times since 1934, Pleasant men hold or share the greatest number of individual records—five. Pleasant has won the meet the last four years.

A list of the county track and field records, compiled by Paul R. Keller of Prospect who coached his teams to nine wins in nine years, follows:

Writer Picks Bosox, Giants For Pennants

The Boston Red Sox are going to edge out the Yankees for the American League title, and the New York Giants will win the National league pennant.

Warren Spahn will be the top pitcher in major league games won—maybe 30—and Ralph Kiner will lead Johnny Mize in the home-run department this season.

So says Bill Fay, Collier's magazine sportswriter in an article out today.

Fay, who favors power clubs, figures that slugger Walker Cooper and pitcher Monte Kennedy are the Giants' ifs, and that Vern Stephens is the key man of the Boston Red Sox.

If Cooper holds his 1947 hitting pace at 35 home-runs and if Kennedy pitches up to his potentialities, watch out for the Giants.

If Stephens, for whom the Red Sox spent approximately $200,000 in players and cash, can slam homers at his old pace of 25 a year, the Bosox are in.

Last year Kennedy won nine and lost 12, and most of the loses could be traced to bases on balls. Manager Mel Ott remarked hopefully, "Nothing wrong with Kennedy that a little control won't cure."

Stephens, aided by a friendly left field fence, is aiming at the mark he made with the St. Louis Browns in 1945—25 homers. He slumped to 14 in 1946 and 15 last year.

The present standings of the two-year Mize-Kiner home-run dual is Kiner, 74; Mize, 73, and Fay gives Kiner the nod this year.

Warren Spahn, who won 21 last year and topped the National league in earned-run rating, will be even better this season, he predicts.

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

Special to The Star.

BIG 9 BALL SEASON OPENS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 16—The 1948 Western conference baseball season opened today with Michigan at Iowa, Wisconsin at Inidana, and Ohio State at Purdue for two-game stands. The same clubs meet again tomorrow. Illinois, the defending champion, and Northwestern and Minnesota will open their 12-game conference campaigns next weekend.

Packed House Watches Girl Wrestling Match

A standing room only crowd jammed the Armory last night to watch Violet Viah, 135, of Kansas City and Elviry Snodgrass, 150, the hefty hill billy from Tennessee, rock and sock each other all over the square circle for a total of 60 minutes in the first gal-grapple on the Armory mat this season. The Kansas City gal finally won the contest in the third fall.

Actual paid admissions came to 870, to watch the gals tussle and to witness a struggle between Steve Nenoff and Gene Blakely for possession of the American Junior Heavyweight championship belt. Blakely won the gold belt on a contested decision in three falls. In a preliminary between novices, with neither boy faking, Mickey Mouse and Bill Winslow wrestled to a draw in 15 minutes.

Elviry Snogdrass won the first fall in the gals' "rassal" in 25 minutes. The plucky Miss Vain came back, however, to take the second fall in 10 minutes when the referee disqualified Elviry for throwing her into the laps of ringsiders. After the gals went through every legal and illegal hold known to wrestling, Violet won the third fall and match with three quick body slams and a body press in 30 minutes.

Steve Nenoff, 190, won the first fall in the championship match with a halfcrab hold in 30 minutes. Blakely, 196, won the second fall with a body press and the third with a series of punches, in 25 and 10 minutes.

Ray Gestaut Is Only Candidate For First Base

If someone from a higher classificaion ball club in the Cubs farm chain doesn't come along to bump him off the initial sack, Ray Gestaut of Chicago will probbaly get the position with the Marion Cubs.

Not only is he the only candidate for the first base job among the 37 rookies trying out with the Cubs, but he looked very good around the sack in the few times the Cubs have had a chance to work on the field.

He can hit a long ball, too, when he lays into the leather with his six-foot-four frame. He weighs 220 pounds.

Gestaut is a dark-haired, handsome lad 21 years of age who graduated from Kelly High school in Chicago in 1944. Although he didn't play ball in high school, he has had a lot of experience since. He played semi-pro ball for a year, and played for two years as an MP in the Army. He served in Europe during the war and was in the Army three years.

He even played for half a season with the University of Illinois before entering the Army.

UPPER RAINED OUT

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 16—Rained out Tuesday the Upper Sandusky High school baseball team will open the season April 20 at Willard. The washed out opener with Galion has been reslated for May 12, at Galion. Galion will play here April 26 and Bucyrus comes here April 28.

Betty Newton Plans Series of Meetings

A series of class meetings of interest to homemakers will be presented each Wednesday night for four weeks by Betty Newton of the local office of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., beginning Wednesday, April 28, she announced today.

The series, "Whodunit Mystery Stories," will be presented each Wednesday night from 7:30 to 8:30 at the home service center on West Center street. Only a limited number of adults can be enrolled for the series and Miss Newton is asking that those interested phone her or drop into the office to register.

The series will be presented as follows: "The Case of the Blushing Bride"; "The Case of the Business Housekeeper"; "The Case of the Experienced Housekeeper" and "The Case of the Entertaining Housekeeper."

A friend in need is the Ill-Merit Treatment for Rheumatism and Arthritis. If you are having any of these symptoms, don't put it off, drop a card to Ill-Merit.

We will send you some folders with names of several of our many satisfied users in your neighborhood. You will be under no obligation. We explain our treatments to you without cost.

Drop a card or letter to Ill-Merit, 177 Olney Avenue, Marion, Ohio.

Knights of Pythias Schedule Events

Marion lodge No. 51, Knights of Pythias, met Tuesday night at the lodge hall on West Center street.

A calendar of events was announced at the meeting the next two months. A district meeting will be held at Sycamore April 29. A class of candidates will be initiated at that time and a turkey dinner will be served.

On May 22, several local members will attend a statewide meeting at the Commodore hotel at Toledo. A speaking contest, a parade, and numerous other activities will be held.

June 2, the Grand Chancellor of Ohio, Frank Wood will make his official visit here during a meeting of the county lodges.

CHIEF ATTENDS OHIO SAFETY CONFERENCE

Traffic Problems Discussed at Meeting in Columbus.

Police Chief William E. Marks yesterday attended the closing session of the eighteenth All Ohio Safety Congress held in the Neil House in Columbus.

The three day safety meeting was attended by 350 legislators, highway officials, police officers, and representatives of safety groups. It was sponsored by the governor's traffic safety coordinating committee and the Ohio Traffic Safety Council.

Chairman of the meeting was Earl L. Reeb, state director of highways, assisted by Vice Chairman D. A. Finkbeiner of Toledo, general chairman of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council. Secretary for the session was Harry E. Neal, chief engineer of the traffic and safety division of the state highway department.

Seven discussion subjects were presented, each by an expert in his field. The subjects and speakers were as follows: "Law and Ordinances," Ohio State Senator Evert E. Addison; "Accident Records," Captain W. L. Groth of Virginia state police of Richmond, Va.; "Education and Driver Training," George B. Tate of Dayton board of education; "Enforcement," Captain E. L. Englehart of traffic division of Akron police; "Engineering," Frank M. Williams, assistant director of highways; "Public Information," D. K. Finley of Columbus Safety Council; "Organized Public Support," E. M. Tharp, Columbus public relations consultant; "Activating the National Program for Traffic Safety," W. Earl Hall, managing editor, Mason City, Ia., Globe Gazette and member of the President's Traffic Safety Conference in 1946-47.

Bridges in Marion Co. To Be Cleaned, Painted

Six of the 13 bridges for which the state will accept bids for cleaning and painting April 27, are located in Marion county according to a bulletin issued today by Highway Director Earl L. Reeb.

Three of the bridges span the Scioto river, two span the Little Scioto river and one spans Whetstone Creek.

Two bridges in Morrow county, one over Shaw Creek and one over Walnut Creek and two bridges in Union county, one over Boker Creek and one over Rush Creek will also be open for cleaning and painting bids.

The total cost of cleaning and painting the 19 structures is estimated by engineers of the state highway department at $19,685. The completion date has been set by the state as Sept. 15, 1948.

EPWORTH GROUP PROGRAM

Grange To Present Exchange Program

Plans were made to present an exchange program at United Grange meeting in the Claridon school building on April 27, at a meeting of Montgomery Grange Tuesday night at DeCliff. The youth committee, directed by Lila Harriman, announced the spring festival and penny supper on April 17. The supper will begin at 5:30 p. m. at the Meeker school.

Clifton Wenig, president, presided, and the program was in charge of Joseph Miller who conducted a series of contests. A marshmallow eating contest was won by Carol Harriman and Lila Harriman and Joe Sposs and Mum Scott were consoled. A balloon duel was won by O. M. Rous.

Speaker for the program was Herschel Hecker of the U. S. soil conservation department who talked on soil conservation and illustrated it with slides showing farms in Marion and surrounding counties. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hinklin and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williamson of Bethlehem Grange were guests. Refreshments were served following the program hour.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

CHARLIE CHAPLIN, born April 16, 1889, in London, England, rose to worldwide movie fame as the forlorn little tramp with the oversize shoes, twirling cane and scrub-brush mustache.

He was born of theatrical parents, made his stage debut as an infant, came to America in vaudeville and progressed to the silent films where he amassed wealth.

He is now playing in and producing his own pictures distributed by United Artists Corp., of which he is a founder member.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The bones of a prehistoric bird 16 feet tall have arrived in New York but most persons seem to be looking for a steak not more than $6 tall.

I won't say prices are high but a judge ruled that $87 a week is low income....Gradually we are becoming the best-heeled paupers of all time.

* * *

In fact I hear the poor-house is planning an extra traffic lane for chauffeur-driven cars.

* * *

The cause of inflation is given as "too much money in circulation"....Although any number of patriots have volunteered to take out of circulation all they can get.

* * *

We are getting a lot of advice including that of the fellow who says "lesh have jush one more round and then quit."

* * *

Then he calls up next day and says "What happened?"

MAMA, CAN I HAVE A COOKIE?
I GUESS SO—YOU'VE BEEN A GOOD GIRL TODAY
UM-M
AREN'T YOU GOING TO HAVE ONE, TOO, MAMA?
NO, DEAR, I DON'T SEEM TO CARE FOR THEM ANY MORE
DO YOU MEAN TO SAY WHEN YOU'RE BIG ENOUGH TO REACH THE COOKIE JAR BY YOURSELF YOU DON'T CARE FOR THEM ANY MORE?

Rip Kirby By Alex Raym

McGEE, DOES ANYONE KNOW OF YOUR MISSION HERE, EXCEPT THE CAPTAIN?
NOT A SOUL, SIR. THERE WAS A GUY SNOOPIN' AROUND IN TUNIS, BUT I SHOOK HIM.... PLENTY!
THIS LETTER FROM THE CAPTAIN CONTAINS VERY SERIOUS INFORMATION! NOT A WORD OF THIS TO MY WIFE... IT WOULD UPSET HER, TERRIBLY! SUPPOSE WE SAY YOU ARE HERE ONLY AS AN AIDE TO THE LITTLE ADMIRAL!
THAT'S GREAT, SIR! WHEN CAN I SEE HIM?
BOS'N McGEE REPORTI FER DUTY, SIR!

Dick Tracy By Chester Go

THERE'S THEIR PLACE! HA! SO, THEY WILL USE A SHOTGUN ON ME, EH?
I'LL SHOW 'EM—I'LL GET 'EM WHILE THEY SLEEP.
UH!

Superman By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shus

PARDON US, BUT WE'D LIKE TO IMPART A SECRET!
WE HAPPEN TO KNOW THAT SUPERMAN IS CLARK KENT!
MY WORD—A TALKING BENCH!
WE'RE NOT A BENCH! WE'RE OGIES!
OGIES? WELL—MY WORD! I CAN'T SEE A THING!
OF COURSE NOT. YOU CAN'T SEE OGIES. YOU CAN ONLY HEAR THEM!
AND WE SAW CLARK KENT CHANGE INTO SUPERMAN!
REALLY? WELL—NOBODY'LL EVER BELIEVE IT—EXCEPT ME. I OFTEN HEAR VOICES.
YOU DO?
OH DEAR JUST OU LUCK—HE A NUT.

Gasoline Alley By Frank Ki

THEY WON'T BELIEVE ME DOWN AT THE SHOP THAT WE ARE EXPECTING A BABY, JANICE.
WE DON'T CARE, DO WE, BIX?
YOU SEE, LAST TIME WHEN I HAD A SECRET AND A SURPRISE THAT'S WHAT THEY THOUGHT IT WAS.
AND IT TURNED OUT TO BE OUR CAR! A GOOD JOKE.
YES, BUT SARGE AND HACK BOUGHT BABY THINGS FOR US AND HAD TO TAKE THEM BACK.
WE WON'T ASK THEM TO BELIEVE ANYTHING THIS TIME UNTIL WE CAN PROVE IT.
WELL, IF NOBODY BELIEVES IT, IT'S STILL A SECRET.
